'Tricycle Set' On Politics: Is It Some Kind Of Sickness?

By KATHY SMALL

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP)—The tricycle set, aged 6 to 10, is at least slightly confused about the national political situation.

This is proved by a survey conducted in pup tents, backyard wading pools and other likely spots. There was reward in trailing the ice cream man's cart.

Most of those interviewed had ready answers. A few seemed reluctant to commit themselves and asked for time to consult their friends. One young man answered every question with: "Gee, I know the answer to that but I forgot it."

"What do you think of the world situation?" was our first question. An 8-year-old gave it some sober thought. "I think it's round," he answered. Other answers included: "It's okay." "It's in outer space.

When asked to identify Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, the young people answered:

"I think he's a wrestler." "He's a German spy." "He's a president who travels around the world." An 8-year-old said: "He's a 'communas' man."

Our next question: "What's politics?" got this answer from a 6-year-old boy. "Is it some kind of sickness?"

"What is a mayor?" drew these opinions:

"It's a bad dream," and "a horse." A majority of those questioned knew positively that a mayor was a horse.

"Who do you think will be the next president?" was answered:

"Washington or President Eisenhower." "Kenneson." Ninety per cent favored George Washington, although some expressed doubt that Washington was still living.

"What's the Senate?" we asked and drew a blank from all but a 6-year-old lover of jet planes. "It's a big loud noise!" he said. "I heard a senate boom one time when I was playing in my backyard."

"What's a convention?" was the next question.

An 8-year-old girl said: "It's where they vote for two men to be president." Other answers: "It's a kinda news report." "People with signs."

A 10-year-old interrupted at this point to tell us he saw a convention on television and it was just like his Cub Scout meeting because nobody would sit down and the leader kept telling them to be quiet and sit down or they couldn't have the meeting.

"What does the president do?" we asked.

"He takes care of atom bombs and things like that." "He travels all over the world like the cops do to see if people are good."

"What's a caucus?"

"It's a prickly plant that hurts if cowboys sit on them."

At this point, someone yelled: "I saw a lightning bug!" and off went the future voters, leaving us to mull over the results of our survey.

U.N. Force Won't Enter Katanga, Premier Says

Makes Report After Talks With Bunche

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (UPI) — Katanga Premier Moise Tshombe said tonight that United Nations troops would not set foot in this province on Saturday, as was announced earlier this week by U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

Tshombe broke the news at a press conference after talks with U.N. trouble-shooter Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, who arrived here from Leopoldville earlier in the day.

He said he had made clear to Bunche that Katanga is independent of the new Congo nation "and she intends to remain independent."

Tshombe said that if the United Nations went ahead with its plan to send troops into Katanga it would be a "tremendous dishonor" for the world organization.

Tshombe said this dishonor would arise because the United Nations was designed as an organization for peace, "and if it sends troops into Katanga it will become an instrument for war."

Previously, Tshombe had said that U.N. troops would have to fight their way into the mineral-rich Katanga and yesterday he and his cabinet ordered mobilization of the province's armed forces.

Tshombe said Bunche was reporting back on the situation to Hammarskjold in Leopoldville and that the secretary general would "refer the whole issue back to the United Nations Security Council where the whole

X-15 ROCKET SHIP ZIPS TO RECORD 2,150 M.P.H.

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—The X-15 rocket ship, warming up for trips to the edge of space, streaked 2,150 m.p.h. today—fastest flight on record for a manned craft.

Joe Walker, ace test pilot for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, was at the controls and becomes the new "fastest human."

The pre-X-15 mark was 2,094 m.p.h. reached here Sept. 27, 1956, in the X2 research plane by Air Force Capt. Milburn G. Apt. He was killed moments later when it went out of control and crashed.

The record for conventional jet planes is 1,525 m.p.h., set here last Dec. 15 in a Convair F106 Delta Dart by Maj. Joseph W. Rogers.

U.S. Repeats Demand Russ Free 2 Fliers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States today accused Russia of illegally detaining two crew members of the U.S. jet reconnaissance bomber shot down over the Barents Sea, and again demanded their immediate release.

In a note delivered in Moscow today, the State Department said Russia apparently decided for purposes of its own to seal off the two airmen "from contact with the outside world in flagrant disregard of international law and practice."

The airmen are First Lt. John R. McKone, 38, of Tonganoxie, Kan., the navigator, and First Lt. Freeman B. Olmstead, 24, of Elmira, N.Y., co-pilot, of the RB-47 Air Force jet downed near Russia's Kola Peninsula.

'Austerity' Budget Draws Some Fire

Heads of seven Marin County departments registered exceptions to Auditor Leon A. deLisle's "austerity budget" before the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday and today. Two more department heads are to appear Monday.

Signs of discontent among the supervisors themselves broke out just before noon today, with Supervisors Vera Schultz and William D. Fusselman making common cause to demand "what's this all about?"

County Clerk George S. Jones confirmed their view that nothing really new was in progress. Assessor Bert W. Broemmel said the arithmetic was old stuff save that formerly it was done "without benefit of IBM."

Several department heads had plaintively paid tribute to the idea of "austerity" but protested that they hadn't budgeted in any spirit of blind grabbing.

"I've never felt that this county need adopt the kind of penny-pinching and belt-tightening we are now exhibiting," said Supervisor Schultz finally, to which Fusselman added:

"Actually this board has never been extravagant. I'm convinced this is a case of opportunism. It makes me sore to be branded this way. In the main, leaving out the civic center, this board has always and consistently tried to get a budget that wasn't fattened up.

"It's not a matter of austerity; it's what we've always done."

Jones said, "those who say the department heads aren't able to prepare a budget are not fair."

Betty L. Presley, welfare director who had been testifying for two hours, declared, "To use a word like 'austerity' is bad when you didn't have any water in the first place."

At this time deLisle had left, his chief expression of the current sessions having been one of general satisfaction at the close of yesterday's hearing. In his absence Michael Mitchell, his assistant, spoke up to say that the effect of the "special report" had been a reduction of $138,000.

"Take up budgets for the last eight years and see what the boards of supervisors have done," Fusselman challenged.

"This is just a routine. Year after year, in consideration of budgets, reductions have been made," add Mrs. Schultz.

Hearings led off yesterday with a presentation by James B. Fletcher, chairman of the parks and recreation commission, who declared that "the austerity budget seems close to

DRIVE ON HIDEAWAYS

Youngsters' Log Cabin Project Chopped Off

Sheriff's officers yesterday stopped a log cabin building project in the woods of Santa Venetia.

The partially completed cabin will be razed as part of Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos's drive against unsupervised, secluded hideaways for youngsters.

It was being built by four boys, who emulated their legendary forebears by chopping down redwood trees to build their hut from the native timber. It is located about a quarter of a mile behind Blessed Sacrament Church, near which a tree house was raided the preceding day and found to be a hiding place for goods stolen from the church school by juveniles.

The redwood trees are on private property, said Sheriff's Inspector William C. Bradley.

Cigarette butts about the cabin showed the four amateur woodsmen, 11 to 13 years old, had been smoking, said Bradley.

Bradley also disclosed today that several months ago, officers found a tree house in the same area in which were photographs of nude women, cigarettes, wine and beer bottles, cards, dice and even a gambling debt list.

A "club" of nine members, all Santa Venetia boys between the ages of nine and 15, used the tree house, he said. They admitted packing as many as 14 youngsters into the shack while a fire was going in a small stove. There was only one exit.

"Those children could have all been burned to death in that firetrap," the inspector said.

Marin Team Advances In Ball Tourney

Long pitched a five-hitter and struck out 10 while Houston and Jarcik each collected two hits.

The Southern Marin team plays its second game tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock at San Jose's Washington Park.

Details of today's game, including a box score, will appear in tomorrow's Independent-Journal.

Kennedy Forms Groups To Help Get Farmer Vote

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy today announced formation of committees aimed at capturing the farm vote and preparing an agricultural program which he said could be implemented as soon as he took office if elected.

Kennedy made the announcement after meeting with Gov. Herschel C. Loveless of Iowa, one of his principal agricultural advisers. (See story on page 2.)

Kennedy also announced a Midwest farm conference will be convened in Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 21.

Tracer Bullets May Have Set Big Grass Fire

Seventy acres of grass, brush and peat were blackened yesterday afternoon near China Camp when a fire believed to be caused by rifle target practice started off North San Pedro Road and burned south up hill and away from the San Rafael Bay.

The fire was reported by telephone to the Marin County Fire Department by a resident who spotted smoke at 2:50 p.m. directly across from an archery range.

County Fire Chief Charles Reilley directed 14 firefighters and five county trucks in battling the blaze.

The fire burned into the several acres of peat at the base of the hill about an hour and a half after it started.

Reilley said the blaze destroyed several trees and burned brush and grass, but no structures were threatened.

He said persons had been seen target practicing with rifles in the isolated area, and tracer bullets fired in the area probably touched off the dry grass.

The last fire truck left the burned land about 11 p.m.

Two hours before the China Camp blaze broke out, Novato firemen were called to a raging burst of fire about a half mile off the end of Stone Drive. Five acres of grass, and 10-foot-high

WASHINGTON RUMOR

Secret Agency Pair On Way To Russia?

There was speculation today in Washington that two missing mathematicians from the super-secret National Security Agency may be en route to or in the Soviet Union, United Press International reported.

However, there has been no charge or suggestion that they had defected, UPI said.

(From Washington, Associated Press reported that Pentagon spokesmen refused comment on the speculation.)

The two bachelor Navy veterans, who had been cleared for access to secret information, were last traced to Havana, where their trail was lost.

The speculation was that they might have left for Russia from Cuba, which has been on increasingly friendly terms with the Soviet Union.

The men—Bernon F. Mitchell, 31 (once a resident of San Rafael), and William H. Martin, 29—dropped from sight June 24 after they told friends they planned a vacation to the West Coast to visit their parents.

Military intelligence agents have ascertained that they booked plane passage to Mexico City June 25, and indications were that they flew to the Mexican capital. They were reported to have checked out of their Mexico City hotel the next day.

They were known to have purchased plane tickets from Mexico City to Havana. Reports from Havana said a check of leading hotels failed to turn up a trace of the men.

Nixon Beams Campaign Into Hawaiian Islands

HONOLULU (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon beamed his presidential campaigning today into the remotest reaches of this far-flung island state as he backed up his pledge to campaign anywhere and everywhere as the GOP presidential nominee.

Nixon is the first presidential nominee to campaign in Hawaii in all of its history. He set out today on a schedule that would make him the first nationally elected official to visit more than two of Hawaii's five major islands.

Although some 70 per cent of the people and votes are on the island of Oahu, Nixon scheduled island-hopping visits and handshaking tours of such lesser known islands as Kauai and Maui as well as the "big island" of Hawaii.

The vice president arrived yesterday to the thunderous roars of the islanders. He and his wife had rested only briefly after a tough 21-hour schedule Tuesday, but appeared fresh as they stepped from their DC-7 airliner and were greeted by some 3,000 well-wishers at the airport.

At Nixon's elbow was Sen. Hiram L. Fong (R-Hawaii) and Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton, both of whom accompanied him from Washington.

Shortly after arriving, Nixon visited Pearl Harbor. He and Mrs. Nixon tossed two white carnation wreaths over the sunken hull of the battleship Arizona.

Nixon later told reporters that "the President of the United States must always put the security of America first and obtain intelligence information that will protect us against surprise attack" such as Japan's onslaught against Hawaii which launched America into World War II.

Other visits by the vice president included a trip to the gaily decorated Kamehameha shopping center, where he spoke to a good-sized crowd. Smiling and straining to speak above the row of leis about his neck, Nixon said "what we really need in waging the war for peace is more of the spirit of aloha that prevails in Hawaii."

Nixon then visited the punchbowl cemetery where 17,000 Pacific war military dead are buried.

His final stop was at the University of Hawaii where he was greeted by President Dr. Laurence Snyder.

Later in the evening, the vice president appeared on an hour-long statewide television show in which he charged that his Democratic opponent for the presidency has paid the price of allowing the nation's union leaders to dictate his labor platform in order to get their support.

The vice president is scheduled to wind up his Hawaiian campaigning with a major speech tonight in Honolulu, and will leave tomorrow morning aboard a chartered plane for Seattle, Wash.

Sen. Kennedy, Advisers Map Farm Policy

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy and a group of farm policy advisers were to meet today with Gov. Herschel Loveless of Iowa, who many believe may be secretary of agriculture if Kennedy is elected president.

Loveless, declaring he seeks no cabinet post, flew here yesterday with his wife, planning to remain for a week's vacation after his talks with the Democratic presidential nominee.

TOP PROBLEM

Kennedy has called the troubled agriculture industry the nation's No. 1 domestic problem.

Loveless is one of a group of midwestern governors and Congress members with whom Kennedy teamed earlier this week in a bitter blast at Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican nominee for president.

They accused Nixon of running out on farm policies they said he helped to write, and of trying to blame Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson for these policies, which they lambasted as "disastrous."

"LOW ROAD"

Nixon retorted that Kennedy is using "low road" campaign tactics.

Both parties have promised in their platforms to seek solutions to farm problems. Farm groups complain that farmers must pay more for just about everything they buy, while receiving less for the crops they sell.

Kennedy contends Congress, reconvening Monday, should enact emergency farm aid legislation and do something about the costly crop surpluses now plaguing farmers and the government.

Billion-Dollar Boost To Farm Incomes Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chairman of the House Agriculture Committee predicted today the post-convention session of Congress will enact stop-gap legislation designed to boost 1960 farm income by one billion dollars.

Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-N.C.) also predicted the legislation will escape President Eisenhower's veto. He said "I don't see how the President could object if he wants to do something about this farm surplus mess."

In other preliminaries to the session:

1. Senate majority leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, indicated Congress will increase defense funds. He called for the administration to say how the added money should be used. The long list of defense items which Johnson said the session will consider might add billions to the defense budget.

2. Two New York Republicans, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating and Rep. William E. Miller, said they plan to offer legislation covering all of the Democrats' civil rights patform promises. Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.), had said Sunday he would seek quick action on the GOP civil rights proposals. But leaders of both parties made it clear they do not intend to bring up civil rights during the session they hope to wrap up by Labor Day.

The Senate reconvenes Monday, the House on Aug. 15.

The vessels will serve ports in the Orient and on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts, with one calling in San Francisco every two weeks.

Indications were the vote would be close.

Upward of 650,000 persons were expected to vote, which would be a record turnout for a Senate race in this state.

Mosk Studying Plan To Give Alcoholics Help

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — California's attorney general announced yesterday he was studying a plan to force rehabilitation of the state's 600,000 alcoholics.

"For the protection of our society and in an effort to assist these people, some plan of enforced rehabilitation may be feasible," said Stanley Mosk.

"We have brushed alcoholism aside as a comparatively unimportant problem," he said, "whereas statistically and economically it is our most important."

Mosk said he would ask the state legislature to consider the possibility of such a plan at its next session. He said enforced rehabilitation could be carried out similar to programs now in force for narcotics addicts and sex psychopaths.

ARMY DISPLAYS SCOUT DRONE

The Army's newest device for gathering information behind enemy lines—an instrument-packed pilotless plane—is displayed at Ft. Meyer, Va. It is 36 feet long and has a wing span of 24 feet. It is mounted on a mobile launching platform. The Army says it has successfully been tested in flight, and that it can snoop out targets and relay back detailed reports to battlefield commanders. # Employees' Living Cost Trim Urged

Recommendation of a cost of living salary increase for Marin County employees of 4.16 per cent, rather than 5 per cent as budgeted, was made to the county board of supervisors yesterday by County Administrator D. A. Jensen.

Jensen said this would save the county $26,210 on salaries, reducing the indicated tax rate by 1.2 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Jensen said this was based on the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics index for the San Francisco area.

He said that if the general 5 per cent wage boost were made effective Sept. 1 rather than retroactively to the first of this month, it would be equivalent of 4.16 per cent for the full fiscal year.

Such action, according to Jensen, would recognize a 2.2 per cent cost of living increase in the 12 months ended June 30 and anticipate a slightly smaller increase through next June. It would keep Marin County "more or less in line with the state, the federal government, surrounding counties with which it competes, and cities within Marin County," he wrote.

The supervisors received the suggestion without comment.

DARK PROBLEM OF CASCADES DUE LIGHTS

The Mill Valley City Council voted last night to shine a bright light on teen-agers' activities in the Cascade area —two lights, in fact.

The council authorized street lights on Cascade Drive at Lovell Avenue and Monte Vista Avenue.

The lights were requested in a letter signed by Cascade area residents, who last month complained loudly and at length about what goes on in the area of the Cascade Reservoir. The letter asking for street lights said they would "make it less attractive to those who crave darkness."

Approval was unanimous by the four council members present. Vacationing Mayor Robert D. Huber was absent.

Lagunitas Trustees Trim School Budget

The Lagunitas School District board whittled $1,000 off the district budget and five cents off the tax rate last night.

The board adopted a 1960-61 budget totaling $162,859, calling for a basic tax rate of $1.95 per $100 assessed valuation. Last year, the district levied a $2 rate.

Special purpose taxes will again total an additional 20 cents, estimated Supt. Clifford L. Frye.

The board gave a go-ahead to architect Martin Rosse of Mill Valley for work on soil tests needed to plan sewage disposal on the school grounds in anticipation of new construction.

Superintendent Frye reported on preparations for the Sept 20 vote on a proposed $80,000 bond issue and $210,000 borrowing from the state.

Decision was made to change the board's meeting nights to the first Tuesday and third Thursday of each month.

It was decided to hold a Parent-Teacher Assn. "back to school night" Sept. 15.

Mill Valley Council Votes $400 For Birthday Festival

The Mill Valley City Council last night ironed out some of the details of the fall festival to be presented Sept. 22, 23 and 24 in connection with the city's 60th birthday.

The council granted $400 to the junior chamber of commerce, sponsor of the celebration, for decorating the city. It approved enlarging the festival area to twice the size of last year by allowing all of the parking lot area behind the bus depot to be used.

F. K. Coburn, representing the junior chamber, said more than two and one-half as many booths have been signed for this year as for last year's fall festival. He said the space for paintings would be double that of last year.

The council will allow one portion of the parking lot to be closed off from Sept. 19 to 25. The rest, excepting the bus lane, will be closed from Sept. 22 to 25.

Offsetting the loss of parking spaces during the festival, Coburn said, will be a special cable car on wheels being hired to run between Tamalpais High School and the festival with stops along the way.

The council also:

1. Continued an appeal from William H. McDevitt of planning commission conditions for approval of a United Market at 759 East Blithedale Avenue.

2. Approved the use of city hall space for a 15-week class in political philosophy under the College of Marin adult education program. Thirty persons have signed for the course.

3. Heard a report from City Manager A. E. Almcrants that Robert Cornish has started his job as planner to update the master plan.

4. Approved warrants totaling $23,756.

5. Heard excerpts read from a letter from county assessor Berthold W. Broemmel to Almcrants answering the city manager's questions on property reappraisal in the southern Marin area. Broemmel said that more than 60 per cent of the 1,501 persons who protested assessed valuation in May were given downward revisions.

A SAFETY SCHEME

Charles Johnson, fairground employee at Logansport, Ind., nails a speed warning sign to a tree. Two bumps, about 15 feet apart, were built into the entrance to the fairgrounds to slow traffic, thus affording protection to thousands of children who use the entrance. # U.S. Blasts Cuba Detention Of Newsmen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States today accused the Cuban regime of Premier Fidel Castro of engaging in a deliberate campaign to "molest, harass, and arbitrarily detain" American news correspondents.

State Department spokesman Lincoln White cited the case of Charles Wiley, a correspondent for New York radio station WOR who was held by Cuban authorities for eight days without charges. He subsequently was deported and now is back in the United States.

DELIBERATE ACTION

White said Wiley's detention was "the most recent of a series of deliberate actions on the part of the Cubans" to molest American reporters.

White's statement was the latest in a series of charges and counter-charges between the United States and Cuba since Castro launched his anti-American campaign.

Only last Tuesday, the Cuban government accused the United States in a note to the Organization of American States of waging economic aggression against Cuba and backing counter-revolutionary moves against Castro.

STIRRING UP FEELINGS

For its part, the United States has accused the Castro government of deliberately stirring up anti-American feelings among the Cuban people and of increasing tensions in the hemisphere.

Wiley was the eighth American correspondent to be detained by Castro's police or army intelligence agents since the first of the year. A ninth reporter, a British subject employed by the National Broadcasting Co., also was detained briefly.

San Rafael Tennis Player Eliminated

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Unranked Don McCormick of Victoria, B.C., produced the biggest upset so far in the British Columbia Tennis Championships yesterday, eliminating second-seeded Harvey Klyce of San Rafael 6-4, 7-5 in the junior men's under-15 class.

McCormick will meet sixth-seeded Gerry Hopkins of Orinda today in a quarter-final match. Hopkins whipped Vancouver's Bill Bardsley 6-1, 7-5.

The tournament ends Saturday.

Budget Rise Only $99, But Tax Up 65c

Muir Beach Community Services District will have to raise its tax rate 65 cents to finance a budget only $99 larger than last year's.

A 1960-61 budget of $4,549 was approved by directors of the district last night. Secretary John White said it will call for a tax rate of $1, the legal limit.

Last year, the district levied only 35 cents with a budget of $4,450.

The situation arises, explained White, because the district's major income is from water rates. Last year, these yielded $3,200. And the district, though it had budgeted $4,450, collected only $450 in taxes, spent $3,900, and wound up with a $250 deficit on June 30.

To make up the deficit and finance actual spending $649 greater than last year's — though with only a $99 budget increase—will require a $1 tax rate, he said.

The district will replace 1,400 feet of water main along Sunset Way during fiscal 1960-61, the directors decided last night.

Texas Leading In Cotton Income

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—Texas led the nation last year in cash receipts from farm marketing of cotton, rice and grain sorghum, according to John G. McHaney of the Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

McHaney said cotton was the leading source of income for Texas farmers. Texas was fourth in sheep and lambs, fourth in peanuts and fifth in flaxseed in national agricultural statistics.

Mother Turns Self In After Abandoning Baby

A distraught Homestead Valley mother abandoned her two-week-old daughter to two strangers last night and ran away barefoot.

This morning, the 37-year-old woman appeared at the sheriff's office searching for the child.

At her own request she was taken to Napa State Hospital for mental examination.

The child, clad only in a thin shirt, was taken to San Rafael General Hospital. Nurses said she was cold and hungary but otherwise in good condition. She was to be placed in a foster home today.

Two women who live in an apartment house at 109 Reed Street, Mill Valley, said they heard a noise about 9:30 last night and went into the garden to investigate.

Mrs. Dorothy E. McMinn, Mrs. Lina Lehman, found a woman, barefoot, sitting on a wall holding the baby.

"The baby's sick," she muttered. "It's a sad case, but it's too late."

She handed the infant to Mrs. McMinn and Mrs. Lehman and fled down the street.

The women called sheriff's deputies who took the baby to the hospital.

Investment Executive Found Dead From Exhaust Fumes

William Arthur Magee, Lucas Valley investment firm executive, late yesterday was found dead in his station wagon parked three miles down a narrow dirt road on the Silveira Ranch near Marinwood.

A length of black rubber hose attached to the exhaust pipe had funneled deadly carbon monoxide fumes into the vehicle.

The body was discovered by the ranch caretaker, Henry P. Scettrini. Magee had been dead almost 16 hours, according to County Coroner Frank J. Keaton.

Several notes found in the station wagon indicated Magee had been despondent over a divorce battle in superior court with his wife, Janice, 45, of 758 Appleberry Drive, Lucas Valley.

Magee, 48, was San Francisco district manager of Financial Industrial Fund, Inc., a 175-million-dollar Denver-based firm. He had been staying at a San Rafael motel since separation from his wife.

Ironically, his wife had attempted to take her own life nine years ago in the same manner, according to affidavits filed in the divorce action. She turned off the car's ignition after a few seconds because of the couple's four children, she said.

The Magees had been married 22 years.

Coroner Keaton said one of the notes, addressed to Magee's wife, said:

"I can't live without you or with myself for what I have done. I love you very much."

PLAN FOR COUNTY

More Austerity Asked In Budget

"A continued austerity program" for Marin County was recommended to the Marin County Board of Supervisors by County Administrator D. A. Jensen yesterday, additional to the current austerity budget proposed to the board by Jensen and Auditor-Controller Leon A. DeLisle.

Jensen put before the board a proposed policy statement which was received without comment. There were subsequent indications among department heads present that all the "austerity" talk was beginning to create apprehension.

Jensen's letter said his ideas, if approved, might be circularized among all department heads to "effectuate tighter budget controls" as soon as approval has been given the final budget for 1960-61.

It embodied five "guiding principles," as follows:

1. No transfer could be made from unappropriated reserve unless one of three circumstances exists: underestimate of a mandatory legal expenditure, development of an emergency, or chance for a saving.

2. No department head would be allowed to start a new project or service, even with enough funds on hand, without complete review by the administrator.

3. Quarterly review of maintenance and capital outlay accounts would be made by the auditor and administrator, with transfer of any indicated savings to general fund.

4. Any newly authorized position, not immediately filled, or existing position vacated and not filled within 90 days, would be vacated and its funds transferred.

5. Budgetary decisions by supervisors would be binding for the whole fiscal year.

Nuclear-Capable U.S. Sub Being Repaired In Japan

TOKYO (UPI)—The U.S. Navy said today the submarine Grayback, which is capable of firing nuclear rockets, is undergoing repairs at Yokosuka naval station south of here.

The disclosure came after a photograph was published by a major Japanese newspaper purporting to show an American submarine capable of firing nuclear rockets anchored at Yokosuka.

The Japanese language newspaper Mainichi published the photograph which it said was of a nuclear missile submarine. It said the Japanese Socialists would make the craft's presence an issue at an anti-nuclear bomb conference opening here tomorrow. The Mainichi also said the Socialists might take up the sub's presence as an issue in the Diet (parliament) when it reconvenes.

Sausalito Parkways Associates, Inc., will build this 14-unit apartment building on the Sausalito waterfront at the foot of El Portal street near Vina del Mar Plaza. Rob Rose, firm president, said apartments will be one bedroom with decks on the main floor, two bedroom with balconies on the upper two floors. El Portal is to the right in drawing. The architect is Albert R. Seyranian of San Francisco; landscape architects are Robert Royston, Asa Hanamoto and David Mayes of Mill Valley.

Larkspur Group Says Engineer's Estimates For Road Work Too High

A group of Larkspur property owners, who want to form a Marina Vista Assessment District, debated last night for more than an hour with the Larkspur City Council.

The group, led by Thomas Stahlbaum of 229 Cardinal Way, Mill Valley, who owns Larkspur property, contested with the council over estimates made by City Engineer John C. Oglesby of a proposed street improvement program for 2,000 feet of Marina Vista Avenue northeast from Summit Drive.

The group felt city street specifications were too expensive.

Oglesby had estimated that to improve the street to city standards would cost $24,500. The improvement would include gravel fill "where needed," two inches of asphalt overlay and concrete curbs and gutters on one side of the 18-foot wide stretch of road.

Stahlbaum said he had Lee Mac Paving Co. of Corte Madera estimate the cost of bringing the road up to city specifications except for curb and gutters, which Oglesby estimated would cost $3,700 alone. The company gave Stahlbaum an estimate of $5,096 for the repair and paving, he said.

Stahlbaum told the council that there was too much difference between the two estimates and that he and his group felt that Oglesby should give another estimate or show where the difference lay.

Mayor H. H. (Steve) Wheeler told the group that he had "complete faith in Oglesby's estimate," and that the city engineer "has been making estimates ranging into the hundreds, and about 95 per cent of the time when the job was completed his estimate has been right on the nose."

The group's other complaint regarded the necessity of having curbs and gutters on the remote hillside road. Ogelsby said it was important for drainage, parking safety and future maintenance cost by the city. He was supported in his view by the council.

The council instructed Oglesby to draw up plans to show detailed specifications for the road's improvement, including concrete curbs and gutters, on which the property owners could get contractor's estimates.

Muir Beach District Rips Highway Plan

The Muir Beach Community Services District, supporting the Sierra Club, last night went on record as denouncing the Shoreline Freeway plan in southwestern Marin on grounds it will deface the countryside.

The directors voted 4-1 to protest the highway plan, with Charles A. Borden, Leslie Smith and Leslie M. Anderson voting for the protest and W. R. (Russ) Brown against.

A public hearing on the road plan was being held this afternoon at Tamalpais Valley School by the California Division of Highways.

Brown, the dissenter, said he feels the highway "is going to come whether we like it or not." He said, "It will get rid of the crooked road and make the trip to San Francisco a 10-minute one."

Dixie Trustees Vote $939,000 For Schools

Trustees of the Dixie School District adopted a $939,387 budget last night without change, after public hearing. It means a 1960-61 total tax rate of $3 per $100 assessed valuation including over-ride taxes, and is up about $200,000 from last year.

Last year's total tax rate was $2.46.

Discussion brought out that about a 21 per cent increase in school enrollment is expected.

The budget increase represents about 28 per cent and the difference mainly comprises 10 per cent boost in salaries and other expenses of instruction.

Last year only 29 per cent of school district income was from local taxes, whereas this year the amount will be 35 per cent.

Pauling Asks Court To Bar Disclosure Of A-Ban Names

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Linus Pauling filed suit in Federal court today asking that the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee be barred from forcing him to disclose the names of persons who signed a petition urging the cessation of nuclear bomb testing.

However, the Nobel prize-winning California scientist said in his suit that he is willing to tell the subcommittee the names of signers living in the United States.

To order him to name foreigners who signed the petition goes beyond the authority of the subcommittee and is illegal, he said.

The petition was signed by some 11,000 scientists from all over the world and presented to the United Nations. The subcommittee subpenaed Pauling in June and ordered him to appear Sept. 15 with the signatures.

MILL VALLEY HOUSEWIFE SAYS NUTS TO WALNUTS

Mrs. Matthew Caughie of Walnut Avenue wants the City of Mill Valley to trim a walnut tree.

It's not that Mrs. Caughie doesn't like walnuts—or walnut trees. She does, she told the council last night, but . . .

Four years ago, a walnut tree fell on her house. Now, children are swinging on the branches of another walnut tree which grows in front of the house, on city property.

She has remodeled the home, and she doesn't want brittle branches falling on it. "The tree is a real hazard," she said.

The council decided to let a couple of tree experts look at the Walnut Avenue walnut.

Memory Of Girl, 12, Used By Forgery Ring

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 12-year-old girl with a photographic memory was the "master forger" in a check forgery ring, federal agents report.

The girl's name wasn't released. Authorities said she is from Oklahoma City, and the sister of one of four persons named in a mail theft and forgery indictment returned yesterday by the Federal Grand Jury.

Investigators said the girl had shown a photographic memory for signatures since the age of 4. They said she could duplicate a signature almost perfectly after just seeing it once.

Agents said the ring, operating out of Oklahoma City, used the girl to sign stolen checks after gaining samples of handwriting from the victims. The ring obtained thousands of dollars in the suburban Lawndale-Hawthorne area here in late 1959 and early this year, investigators said.

Named in the indictments were Patricia A. Sandersfield, 23, and Zelpha Janett Hayes, 20, of Oklahoma City; Herbert L. Sandersfield, 30, now serving a six months County Jail sentence here for issuing bad checks, and Sig J. Keeling, 31, of 225 S. Freeman Ave., Inglewood.

VIDEO OUTLET REALLY BUGS ITS VIEWERS

MARQUETTE, Mich. (UPI)—Everyone who watched a television movie on a local station last night was justified in any complaints about a "bug in the set."

A large spider couldn't be ignored by viewers when it walked across Gene Tierney's shoulder during a love scene with Randolph Scott in the movie.

The spider was inside the station's projector and walked in front of a magnifying prism, making it clearly visible to viewers.

Figures Given On Utilities Assessments

State assessments of public utility properties in Marin County did not increase as much, percentagewise, as the county's own assessments of real property.

The California Board of Equalization today announced it had hiked the assessment total on utility properties in Marin by 5.23 per cent over last year. This year's total is $25,558,650, up $1,270,930 over 1959.

The county assessment roll for 1960-61 totaled $270,009,846, an increase of $24,024,662, or 12.45 per cent, over last year.

Utility properties are assessed by the board of equalization at a rate which the utility companies claim is about 50 per cent of market value. Marin County assessments are at 23 per cent of market value as determined by the county assessor.

Two Nations End Row On Eichmann

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel and Argentina have settled their differences over the kidnaping of Adolf Eichmann, accused of directing the mass murder of six million Jews under Hitler.

Israeli agents seized Eichmann in Argentina May 21 and whisked him off to Israel, where he now awaits trial as a war criminal. The Argentine government charged that Israel had infringed on Argentine sovereignty by acting without its knowledge or consent.

A communique last night in Buenos Aires and Jerusalem said: "The governments of Israel and the Republic of Argentina, animated by the wish to comply with the U.N. Security Council resolution of June 23 in which hope was expressed that traditionally friendly relations between the two countries would be advanced, have decided to regard as closed the incident that arose out of the action by Israeli authorities which infringed the fundamental rights of the state of Argentina."

Castro Brother Says Russ Rockets Would Blast U.S. If Cuba Attacked

HAVANA (UPI)—Armed forces minister Raul Castro, just back from a trip to Moscow and Communist East Europe, said early today Russia's "rockets of peace" will blast the United States if it attacks Cuba.

In a rambling, hour-and-40-minute speech, Premier Fidel Castro's younger brother also:

1. Contradicted reports that the premier is seriously ill, saying that he is "resting well" and will come back "stronger than ever."

2. Said he will produce proof in a telecast Friday that Edwin L. Sweet, of Abilene, Tex., and William G. Friedmann, of Stillwater, Okla., U.S. diplomats expelled from Cuba in June as "spies," were "Nazi agents at the service of Hitler."

A passing reference to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev touched off a one-minute ovation among the audience.

Everest Conquerers May Aid Space Traveler Program

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The men who conquered Mount Everest—tallest point on earth—may assist in sending man on into the heavens through a series of high altitude experiments.

An Air Force doctor plans to examine Sir Edmund Hillary and Dr. Hugh Griffiths, two members of the British party which first climbed the 29,002-foot mountain in 1953, during a nine-month expedition to Nepal starting next month.

Capt. Thomas O. Nevison Jr. hopes the experiments and observations of how men perform at altitudes of 19,000 feet and above over long periods of time will give medical men a hint as to how well space travelers can adapt to thin atmospheres.

Budget Of $296,295 Approved In Larkspur

A 1960-61 budget of $296,295 was unanimously adopted last night by the Larkspur City Council.

The amount is $3,912 less than the total proposed by City Manager Ronald E. Piper at the council's July 20 budget hearing, but still leaves a deficit $6,897 and is $33,258 more than last year's expenditures.

The deletion of $3,912 came when building inspector William F. Wegner asked to be heard by the council.

Wegner requested that his present salary of $120 a month be raised by $100. He told the council that he would rather have the raise than an assistant inspector recommended in the new budget to help him.

City Manager Piper told the council that Wegner had a heavy work load for the small amount he was being paid by the city. He said Wegner, who is 70, would inspect jobs at "just about any time during the day or night," and works more than 35 hours a week.

The council unanimously voted to increase the inspector's salary and Councilman Lesly A. Daveler suggested to Piper that Wegner be given an office in the city hall. The inspector now works from his home.

The council then struck $4,752 recommended for an assistant inspector, who would have also been a planning aid.

Mayor H. H. (Steve) Wheeler, during the discussion of the budget, asserted that "we must not be disturbed over a deficit because the city cannot drag its feet, lag or procrastinate when Larkspur needs the purchases allowed in this budget."

(At the council's July 20 budget hearing Piper had assured the council that the deficit would be covered by adequate reserves and "should in no way alter the financial condition of the city.")

Councilman Daveler questioned whether the city should include the $30,000 fire substation proposed to be built in Greenbrae.

The other councilmen disagreed with Daveler's alternative that the city contract with the Kentfield Fire District to protect the portion of Greenbrae which is within Larkspur.

Those in favor of the substation felt that the necessary protection for Greenbrae "has been put off for too many years as it is."

The major increases over last year's expenditures will be $61,935 as compared to $30,308 for the fire department; $101,385 as compared to $82,543 for the street department, and $15,390 compared to $5,115 in the park and recreation department. The major decrease was $27,383 budgeted for the sanitation department this year, as compared with $40,231 last year.

Piper (who July 20 said the tax rate for 1960-61 would probably be the same as last year's $1.63 per $100 assessed valuation) suggested to the council that the tax rate be set at the council's next regular meeting, Sept. 7.

Hearing Set On Negroes' Vote Charges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Civil Rights Commission announced today that it will hold a hearing in Louisiana on complaints of Negroes that they were denied the right to register or were purged from the state's registration list.

The hearing in Louisiana will be the first to be held in the south on voting rights since the Supreme Court ruled last June that the commission does not have to permit cross examination or confrontation of witnesses at its hearings.

A spokesman said the commission decided today to hold the hearings on Sept. 27 and 28 at a still to be determined location in Louisiana.

The spokesman said complaints had been received from every part of the state.

More Service Sought From Sanitary District

A petition that Ross Valley Sanitary District serve rock quarry buildings, a lumber supply firm and a planned restaurant at Greenbrae east of Highway 101 was discussed last night by district directors.

Action was postponed to an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the district office at 11 Library Place, San Anselmo.

The petition was filed by Hutchinson Co., operators of the rock quarry; Alexander K. Merab, who plans a second Alexis' Tangier restaurant, and Alfred A. Finnila, president of Construction Supply Corp. at 14 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard East.

Last night's discussion centered around engineering problems since a pumping station would be required, said Ralph Noah, district manager.

Also postponed to Tuesday's meeting was further discussion of a 1960-61 preliminary budget totalling $102,000, the same figure as last year's budget.

Point Reyes School Budget To Be Higher

Point Reyes School District will have a bigger budget but a lower tax rate for fiscal 1960-61.

The three-member district school board last night adopted a budget totaling $14,276. However, largely because of carryover from last year, only a 62-cent tax rate will be necessary.

Last year, with a budget totaling $13,751, the district levied a 66-cent rate to operate the one-room school.

The largest budget is due to an increase in the reserve fund, said Rudolph A. Kupfer, assistant county schools superintendent, who assisted the board in preparation of the budget.

Quentin Felon Still Missing

Inmate George Frederick Winn, 33, who escaped from the San Quentin Prison ranch at San Quentin Tuesday night was still missing today, reported Associate Warden Dale B. Frady.

Winn, classified as a minimum security risk, was missing from a 10 p.m. count at the ranch dormitory Tuesday, and was believed by prison authorities to have escaped over the low wire fence that surrounds the ranch area.

Armed prison guards continued to patrol roads in southern and central Marin today, in belief Winn may still be hiding out in the area.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

12 p.m., Novato—Brush fire half mile off Stone Drive burned brush pile and five acres of grass.

2:15 p.m., San Anselmo—False alarm at Santa Cruz Avenue and San Francisco Boulevard.

2:51 p.m., North San Pedro Road—Seventy-acre fire south of road near China Camp probably caused by tracer bullets fired into dry grass during rifle target practice.

3:50 p.m., Novato — Interior of truck cab burned at end of Alamda del Prado; cause undetermined; damage minor.

8:10 p.m., San Rafael—Lumber pile smoldering at 530 Francisco Boulevard; cause undetermined; minor damage.

10:05 p.m., Corte Madera—Hot ashes dumped in lot south of Madera Pet Hospital, 5800 Paradise Drive, ignited grass; no damage.

being an insolvency budget" in his case.

"When we prepared recommendations, we did so on an austerity basis," he said, "holding to the lowest possible figure compatable with a coherent, meaningful program."

Fletcher went through a long list of items on which cuts had been imposed, with scant consideration, he declared, of the meaning of a parks and recreation program in such a county as Marin. The board promised sympathetic consideration.

Planning Director Mary Summers had a short and pleasant hearing because she had only two boosts to ask, one of $1,000 for master plans for San Geronimo Valley and Bolinas-Stinson Beach.

Virgil S. Hollis as superintendent of schools presented a detailed printed program of what changes he wanted and made a full additional presentation resulting in favorable consideration even of a point he didn't make personally — that he should go a national annual school convention.

Miss Presley started mildly around 5 p.m. but when she later intimated that with four letters she'd really put her show on the road, the board hastily decided to recess till today.

This morning included Miss Presley at length, plus brief presentations by Dr. Carolyn Albrecht (who felt the county won't lose money on dog rabies clinics) and Broemmel, who had reconsidered earlier willingness to trim a bit.

At 9 a.m. Monday are scheduled Probation Officer Walter Busher, out of town this week, and Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy, medical director.

Katanga situation will be discussed again."

Officials at U.N. headquarters in New York said they had no comment on the new developments in the Congo.

Bunche arrived in Elisabethville as hundreds of whites were streaming out of the province in an exodus that resembled the flights of Europeans a month ago when rebellious Congolese troops raped, pillaged and looted.

Missing Boat Turns Up In San Rafael

A 36-foot sloop owned by Dr. Glen Cross of San Francisco was located in San Rafael today after a six-hour search for it last night by Belvedere police.

Sherman Peterson, manager of the San Francisco Yacht Club, reported the boat, Simba, missing last night. Police Chief William S. Woodington told the Coast Guard and had an all-points bulletin sent out. He and officer Alexander Mendoza kept up the search until 4 a.m. today.

Later this morning, Peterson said, a boat broker telephoned him saying the boat was in a San Rafael Yacht Harbor and was not stolen. "There is some misunderstanding somewhere," Peterson said. He would not disclose the name of the boat broker.

piles of brush from a subdivision clearing, were aflame.

The flames leaped, at times, as high as 50 feet, and could be seen from Highway 101.

Novato firemen battled the stubborn blaze 10 hours before extinguishing it.

Driver Booked On Hit-Run Charge

Donald A. Taylor, 30, of San Francisco was booked at the county jail early today on a charge of hit-run driving after his car hit a parked vehicle at Bridgeway Boulevard and Richardson Street in Sausalito.

Police said Taylor's car crossed to the wrong side of the street and damaged a car belonging to Paul R. Coutlee of 350 Santa Margarita Drive, San Rafael. Taylor left the scene, police said, and went to a nearby restaurant where officers found him.

Gas Truck Driver Averts Disaster As Fuel Spills On Street, Ignites

OAKLAND (UPI) — Split-second work by the driver of a gas tank averted what would have been one of the major disasters in the history of California, firemen said today.

Robert Smith, 33, drove up to a gas station to unload his cargo of gasoline yesterday. He doused two of three flare pots burning near a construction job, but thought it would be safe to leave the third one alone. Fumes from the gas were ignited by the third pot, some 15 feet from the hose.

The flames flashed back and in an instant, the rear tires and rear end of the truck were afire. But Smith immediately grabbed the hose and pulled it out of the underground tank and flung it into the gutter. If not for that, firemen said the 16,000O gallon storage tanks beneath the station would have gone up in an explosion.

"But I couldn't get to the shut-off valve," Smith said sadly. As a result, a 30-foot blaze of gasoline moved down the street for 15 fiery minutes before firemen quelled the blaze.

The flaming wall of burning fuel poured 500 feet down the street, scorching the fronts of nine homes and endangering the neighborhood. Two cars and two trees were burned up.

The flames caused four alarms, but alert work by fire Lt. Dale Palmerson averted a major disaster for the second time. He ran to the back of the burning truck and managed to close the valve.

Contact points of aircraft magnetos are made of a valuable alloy which has 90 per cent platinum and 10 per cent ruthenium, a hard metal almost insoluble in acids.

Developers Gobbling Up Marin's Bay Shore Frontage

Three of Marin County's 10 incorporated cities are land-locked.

All of the other seven include varying amounts of bay shoreline within their corporate limits.

Over the years Sausalito has studied ways and means of developing the city-owned tidelands along the waterfront, envisioning a park-like recreation area there. While there hasn't been much concrete progress, at least the public ownership of public access to the waterfront is being preserved.

Mill Valley city property embraces a tidelands area along the upper reaches of Richardson Bay tributaries, for ultimate development as a recreation area. Again, a shoreline area is being preserved for public use.

Belvedere has a substantial acreage of tidelands earmarked for recreational development.

We made reference in this space yesterday to the wildlife refuge on the east shore of Richardson Bay and the former Naval Net Depot on the east slope of Tiburon Peninsula purchased by the county as surplus, for ultimate recreational development.

A goodly stretch of Paradise Cove tidelands lie within Corte Madera, but so far as we know, that municipality has never given serious thought to preserving public access.

Larkspur over the years has dreamed of a municipal yacht harbor on the shores of Corte Madera Creek, a navigable stream.

San Rafael liquidated its yacht harbor some years ago and has had cause to regret that action since. Planners always conjure up visions of waterfront public recreation developments, but so far nothing has gone beyond the drawing board stage.

Novato's bay shoreline is limited to Hamilton Air Force Base and—so long as the Air Force remains in possession—that is unlikely to be available for any sort of public recreation development.

This newspaper has frequently advocated development of a public owned park at both McNear's Beach (now revitalized as a privately operated recreation area) and historic Paradise Cove Park, also operated for many years as a privately-owned public recreation area.

The state and county have at various times advanced plans for projects along the line we envision but they, too, have never got beyond the planning stages.

In Marin we have mountain redwood state parks and we have an ocean front state park at Stinson Beach; we also have Tomales Bay state park. But we have no state park along the bay shoreline.

It disturbs us to see the opportunity to save some substantial part of our beautiful bay shore frontage for recreational purposes being lost as developers gobble it up bit by bit.

Let us hope that some individual or group or government official comes forth with a sound proposal for preserving what past generations have enjoyed, some bay beaches.

Look Ma, No Toes!

The California Fish and Game Commission has announced that it intends to ask the next session of the legislature to pass a law banning the importation of paranha, the small South American fish which is all sharp teeth and appetite.

These fish are now being sold to pet shops, probably for the home aquarium of the fellow who has everything. What bothers the fish and game people is the possibility that some of the frightful little finned monsters might get into some of our California rivers and streams, thrive and reproduce. The prospect is enough to curdle the blood and send chills down our spines.

Paranhas travel in schools and are so ferocious that a grown cow which falls off a boat into paranha waters is said to be reduced to a skeleton within three minutes. A man takes less time. Travellers on South American rivers soon learn not to trail their hands in the water or go wading. Paranhas are death to other fish too.

Whether or not the paranha could live in California streams is a question we will leave to the experts. But as long as the possibility exists, even remotely, we think this ban on importation a wise idea. We wouldn't want these bloodthirsty creatures cluttering up our lovely streams such as Papermill Creek, for example.

Whatever Happened To The $2 Hotel Room, Its Homeliness?

NEW YORK (AP) — It's a shame the way America lets go so quickly of its past, and one of the traditions it has lost is the fine old tradition of the $2 hotel room.

Whatever happened to it anyway?

During the depression years one consolation was the $2 hotel room.

Many people today under the age of 35 have never heard of such a thing, and perhaps I had better describe it.

The $2 hotel room was featured, usually, by a somewhat seedy and a bit run-down hostelry that had seen better days. It was strategically located across the street from a tavern that sold a tall foaming glass of beer for a nickel.

The hotel lobby was large and old-fashioned and furnished with plush red remnants of its faded grandeur. The floor was of marble.

When you checked in, an elderly bellhop delivered your bags to a creaking elevator and steered it himself up to your floor. If you gave him a two-bit tip he would flash a look of real gratitude, and if you gave him a four-bit tip he would sit down, break into tears, and tell you the story of his life.

The room was $10 if you stayed a week, $25 to $30 if you stayed by the month.

The room itself was big and comfortable. It had a 19th century air of durability.

The double bed was big and soft, and over it hung a picture of Whistler's mother to remind the weary traveler that somewhere, sometime, someone had loved and waited for him—and perhaps still did.

The room held a big old chipped bureau; two floor lamps, one of which worked; a bedside table, and a huge shabby old chair by the window where you could sit and read the Gideon Bible.

WHATEVER happened to the $2 hotel room?

Some hotels have cut it into three $12 rooms with single hideaway beds that only a mechanical engineer can open. And over the bed hangs a water color of the Arc de Triomphe in a pelting rain.

AND IF YOU palm the bellhop with less than a buck he looks at you as if you were either Silas Marner or Rip Van Winkle.

Nixon-Kennedy Debates Would Interest More Voters In Voting

WASHINGTON — The prospective face-to-face television debates between Vice President Nixon and Sen. Kennedy should make this the most vibrant, engrossing, dramatic Presidential campaign in memory.

The networks are rendering an immense service to the voters and to the nominees by giving free prime evening time for a series of joint appearances by the two candidates.

Sen. Kennedy has already accepted. Vice President Nixon is agreeable and is making two suggestions designed to make the debates more meaningful and revealing to the public.

It seems to me that Mr. Nixon is right in proposing that the nominees speak extemporaneously—rather than read prepared speeches at each other—and that they be free to question each other on the spot.

This should be satisfactory to Mr. Kennedy who knows his own mind, has his subject matter at his finger tips, and can speak off-the-cuff coherently and brilliantly.

Such a series of meetings between the nominees would be in the best tradition of the Lincoln-Douglas debates.

SOMETHING LIKE them has long been desirable. It is now virtually certain that the Kennedy-Nixon debates will take place.

This will not be just a show, not a stunt. Neither of the nominees want to make it that way at all. Neither will be disposed to do so. These debates will be far more valuable than just a trial of wits. The results which would flow from them would be these:

They would enable the voters to measure and compare, much better than otherwise the fibre and fitness of the nominess. Such face-to-face debate, with the candidates' speaking their own minds in their own words, would relegate to the sidelines the Madison Avenue image-makers and mimeograph machines.

They would vastly enliven and increase public interest in the campaign. Most people would listen more attentively to lively debate than to the usual campaign oratory.

INCREASED INTEREST in the campaign would inevitably increase the total vote. The Nixon-Kennedy debates would do more to bring voters to the polls in November than all the get-out-the-vote exhortation of 50 years.

They will sharpen and deepen public interest in the issues of the election. These debates will not only stimulate us, they will educate us. They will help immeasurably to develop a public opinion which will better support the next President in measures he will want to carry out.

How much sharply focused, penetrating, and fair minded discussion usually gets into a Presidential campaign? It is very limited and far-between. One of the reasons is that most Presidential campaign speeches are delivered to the converted, for the converted, by the converted, usually at intensely partisan, super-heated party pep-rallies.

The prospective Kennedy-Nixon debates will be primarily directed to voters who haven't made up their minds and to voters who need better reasons before making up their minds. Others can listen in. Most campaign speeches are delivered to those who have already decided their vote and they are not often of a character to induce many others to listen in.

FORTUNATELY THE circumstances conspire to make it natural and easy for Nixon and Kennedy to accept the debate idea this year. Wendell Willkie challenged F. D. R. to radio debate in 1940 but the President refused because he knew he would be just making big audiences for his opponent. Nixon and Kennedy have about the same audience appeal. Each is alert and articulate.

I am convinced that their debates will do themselves and the voters a great deal of good.

Especially the voters, because they can judge the nominees better when they are on their own, when they can cross-examine and answer each other in person.

From a sometimes critic of television, here is one cordial bow to the networks.

10 YEARS AGO

Marin residents with view of the Bay were complaining that the smell was far from lovely. Said Dr. Clarice Haylett, health officer: Can't be helped, for two reasons—raw sewage, and decomposing algae. The sewage bother will abate with installation of treatment plants for all areas in the county, he said.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Let's Have Truth In Press, Letters

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

We have lived in Marin County for 14 months and have enjoyed your newspaper very much. Therefore I read your lead editorial of Saturday, July 30, with considerable dismay. It would be good for the American people to have a political campaign in which there is some slight respect for the truth. Perhaps this is too much to ask. It would be good for the American people to have a Press that shows respect for the truth, even during political campaigns. I think this is not too much to ask. The record you know is easy to obtain, and it shows that the Republican party and the Democratic party are in a dead heat in the matter of fiscal irresponsibility. When you mention a Republican surplus of six hundred million dollars and fail to mention last year's deficit of eleven billion, this is a flagrant lie of omission and you know it. I do not wish to change your political leanings, but I do wish very much to see honesty in the public press. It will do our country no harm.

JOHN S. MILLER
Mill Valley

(Ed. Note: Bravo! And let this dedication to truth include writers of letters to "What Our Readers Say." Our editorial did NOT "mention a Republican surplus of six hundred million dollars" as stated by Reader Miller. All we said on the subject was, "We like the present Eisenhower-Nixon budget surplus far better than the Kennedy-Democrat fiscal day-dreaming.")

A father and his ten-year-old son occupied seats of a parlor car traveling from Washington to New York. The boy never stopped prattling and as the train pulled out of Wilmington, a man sitting just back of the father commented, "Say, that boy of yours certainly talks a blue streak, doesn't he?" "He does," agreed the father wearily, then added, "He looks like her, too."

Curriculum At Terra Linda To Follow Pattern Of San Rafael

WHEN THE NEW Terra Linda High School opens Sept. 6 to some 450 freshmen and sophomores, it will offer a curriculum very similar to that of San Rafael High.

Administrators and board members agree that they obviously cannot let the two schools be different, for such differences could only lead to unhappy comparisons or dissatisfactiton from students who are assigned to one or the other school.

But the school district does look on the opening of a new school as an opportunity to experiment, perhaps, with new ways of doing things or new methods of presenting a course.

For example, the school will try something new in fulfilling the health education requirement.

The state requires that certain health matters be taught in school—such as the evils of alcohol and narcotics, and the principles of first aid. Schools meet this requirement in various ways. At San Rafael High health education has been taught in a half-year senior class.

Terra Linda High intends to experiment for a year or two with incorporating a unit of health education in the physical education classes for each of the four years. This will leave a half-year course open for seniors, giving them an opportunity for a more flexible program, Principal Webster D. Wilson believes.

TERRA LINDA ALSO will be looking into a different system of attendance record keeping and is considering an omnibus student body card for activities, which Wilson feels has a "great deal of merit."

The temporary student council for Terra Linda High—consisting of representatives from San Rafael High (150 of San Rafael High students will be transferred to Terra Linda), Vallecito and Santa Venetia Schools — has really been working since last January.

One of the results of their labors has been development of a constitution for the school. They have also helped select school colors and the name for the school's teams.

Student suggestions on colors and names were submitted to the council, narrowed down and turned back to students for final selection.

The Terra Lindans, in case you haven't heard, will be known as the Trojans, and sport school colors of blue and gold.

THESE COLORS will be featured in the attractive uniforms the Terra Linda girls will be wearing.

Mrs. Ben Petrini, one of the parents leading the move for uniforms at the new school, reports that a committee of girls and parents will meet sometime around the opening of school to iron out details such as when to start wearing uniforms and what days will be non-uniform ones.

The uniform selected by the girls and parents consists of a plaid skirt of light and dark blue with a gold thread, white blouse and light blue sweater matching the skirt.

A survey showed a majority of parents and girls like the idea of uniforms, Mrs. Petrini says. The high price of clothes is one of the reasons, as well as the perennial problem of "what shall I wear?"

Terra Linda's uniform will cost a total of about $27 or $28 and will be sold at Sarrae's in San Rafael, Mrs. Petrini reports.

Wearing of the uniform will, of course, be optional, since public schools cannot require it.

Nikita Would Use Britain For New Approach To U.S.

By K. C. THALER
United Press International

LONDON (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev wants to use Britain as a bridgehead for a future approach to the United States.

Khrushchev's designs have emerged from recent diplomatic feelers which Moscow's propaganda machine has been putting out to Britain.

In official and personal contacts the Kremlin has tried to find out whether Prime Minister Harold Macmillan would once again be prepared to provide a "bridge" to the United States.

But Macmillan, badly hit by the collapse of the summit which he worked so hard to promote, does not want to be used as a medium for Khrushchev's zig-zagging co-existence policy.

THE SOVIET approaches have taken the form of sharp criticism of Britain's failure to save the summit, and of more or less "reminders" that Britain is not playing her part now.

Other approaches have bluntly accused Britain of being subservient to the United States and have urged her to revert to her role as mediator.

These moves are the first steps in the Kremlin's preparations for a new campaign to get East-West talks going as soon as possible after the new U. S. President has been elected.

Khrushchev apparently has realized that he has gone too far in his attacks on President Eisenhower and that it will take more than a mere call for a conference from Moscow to bring the new U. S. president into fresh East-West negotiations.

SO FAR, KHRUSHCHEV has not been getting any help from Macmillan, who was the chief advocate of summit talks before he was totally let down by the Soviet leader.

Macmillan is taking a back seat for the time being and marking time before deciding on whether there is any sense in taking any new initiative in the light of Russia's latest aggressiveness.

The British prime minister, who after the latest cabinet reshuffle is also virtually his own foreign minister, recently challenged Khrushchev to state clearly what he is after and to explain his recent incomprehensible policy moves.

Over the next few months Macmillan is expected to study the situation closely.

Above all, he hopes for an early meeting with the new U. S. president for a joint fresh assessment of the world situation before embarking on any new venture in cold war strategy.

Any initiative from Britain which Russia now seeks will be largely determined by the conclusions of the first meeting between Macmillan and the man who is U. S. president next January.

Oldham Sparkles Again As San Jose Clobbers Travis

By KARL BARRON

Nesbit Masonry Club of San Jose unloosed a barrage of 14 hits behind Johnny Oldham's three-hit pitching to dump the Travis Air Force Base Hawks 12 to 3 last night.

Three hundred fans came to San Rafael's Albert Park to watch Oldham in action, and the former Pacific Coast League left-hander did not disappoint them. He had struck out 14 in eight innings when the game was terminated under the nine run deficit rule. Ten Hawk errors helped keep Oldham's mates moving on the base paths.

It was defending champion San Jose's — and Oldham's — —second tourney victory. Last Friday the Nesbits trimmed Tiburon 5-1 behind Oldham's one-hit, 20-strikeout performance.

Last night San Jose wasted little time in establishing its superiority as the Hawk's starter, Stan Culwell, lasted for exactly four batters. Cookie Camara, lead-off shortstop, who went three for three with two walks, started things in the first with a hit. Right fielder Lou Leonard singled, Chuck Camusso walked, and Culwell wild-pitched Camara in.

Center fielder Tuck Halsey singled to score Leonard, and Hawks' manager Bill Ray sent in chunky right hander Reese Dick to take over on the mound. Dick got the next three batters to pop up to end the inning.

In the second, Oldham was safe on an overthrow after forcing Don Lopes, the leadoff batter, Camara singled, stole second, and Oldham scored on an error. Another error allowed Camara to score.

Dick clamped down and retired San Jose for two successive innings, but in the fifth, Halsey led off with a clean belt over the left field fence. San Jose gathered two more in the sixth.

With one down in the seventh, left fielder Art McBride unloaded one, again over the left barrier, Ralph Romero followed him with a double, Oldham singled, and before Dick got out of the inning, two more had scored. Steve Kisio replaced Dick in the eighth.

In the eighth, Halsey walked, catcher Joe Winstead singled, an outfield error allowed Halsey to score, and Romero belted a single which scored Winstead and put out the lights for the night.

The Hawks' first score came in the fifth, when Oldham lost control momentarily after retiring the first two men. Four successive walks pushed in shortstop Mac Hodge.

TRAVIS RALLIES

Dick led off the seventh for Travis with a solidly hit double to left field. After Chuck Kelberlau struck out, catcher Bill Hills hit weakly to the mound. Oldham, seeing Dick off the bag, threw to second, and in the rundown, the throw got away from third baseman Chuck Camusso, with Dick safe at third, and Hills on second.

Travis fans came to their feet as center fielder Ray Newman smashed a single to left center and the runners scored. It was Newman who electrified the crowd on the first night of play with a seemingly impossible catch off the center field wall.

An outfield fly and an infield out retired the side, and ended the Hawks' hopes.

Mill Valley Battles Franciscans Tonight

Mill Valley Merchants face a "win or else" situation tonight as they take on The Franciscans of San Francisco in the second round of the California State Semi-Pro Tournament at Albert Field, San Rafael.

Manager Bill Price's southern Marin team must win or be eliminated with its second loss in this double-elimination tournament. The Merchants bowed last weekend, 12-3 to the 88-Cent Stores team of Oakland. In their first tourney game The Franciscans were clubbed 13-0 by Ben's Tavern of Alameda.

Those four teams made up tonight's attractive twin-bill with Mill Valley and the Franciscans squaring off at 6 o'clock and Ben's vs. 88-Cent Stores at 8:45. The 6 o'clock tilt will be aired by Radio KTIM.

The Franciscans must be rated favorites in tonight's game off their previous 5-2 win over Mill Valley in a pre-tournament exhibition.

Tournament Commissioner S. L. "Brick" Swegle today announced the schedule for the balance of the week.

Friday—6 p.m., San Mateo Blues vs. Gino Benedetti; 8:45 p.m., Santa Rosa Elks vs. Hatzell Radio of El Cerrito.

Saturday—5 p.m., Kelly's Market of Bakersfield vs. Richmond Elks; 8:15 p.m., Manteca Merchants vs. Sabella's of San Francisco.

Sunday—1 p.m., Marin Buffalows vs. Riverside Dons; 5 p.m., Brisbane Athletic Club vs. Burlingame; 8:15 p.m., Pontiac Braves of Oakland vs. Acme Carpets of Oakland.

Hub Juniors Win Tourney

Superb relief pitching by Phil Ferris and power hitting by Russ Young and Dan Abballo spelled a 12-8 victory for San Anselmo over North Marin last night in the first Junior League All-Star game of the San Anselmo Youth Baseball Tournament.

In the Minor League, Hamilton Air Force Base downed Fairfax, 6-3.

Tonight at 6 o'clock Fairfax and San Rafael meet in the Junior League, and San Anselmo's Minors clash with Gallinas Valley.

In last night's Junior contest, Ferris came on in the sixth with the score tied at 8-8, the bases loaded and no outs. He struck out his first two opponents and forced the third to ground out. North Marin, behind 8-3 when the inning began, had scored three of their five tallies for the frame on Russ Powell's bases-loaded triple.

In the bottom of the sixth San Anselmo scored four runs, two of them on a single by Young. Young had hit a solo home run in the third inning and Abballo had hit a two-run four-bagger earlier in the same frame and wound up with three for three. The two accounted for five of the winners' six hits. North Marin had eight safeties, but left seven men on base. Centerfielder George Sherba hit two for three.

In the seventh inning the game's only double play from shortstop Pat Murray to third baseman Bill Nacca made Ferris' job easier. He struck out the next man to end it.

Southern Teams Quit Tournament In San Rafael

Two southern California teams have withdrawn from the California State Semi-Pro Tournament in San Rafael, Commissioner S. L. "Brick" Swegle announced last night.

He said the Los Angeles Shriners and Bakersfield Foundry, both first round losers, had decided not to return for second round games because there appeared little chance they could go on to win the title.

Los Angeles forfeited last night's scheduled game to the Tiburon Pelicans and Bakersfield forfeited Saturday's schedule contest with the Ongaro Plumbers of San Anselmo.

Sheehan Still Sees Hope; Sad Sam To Hurl Tonight

COMBINED AP & UPI

PHILADELPHIA — Those three straight losses to Philadelphia which have the unpredictable San Francisco Giants stumbling again haven't shattered the faith of Manager Tom Sheehan.

"Of course, those losses aren't good," Sheehan said today. "But if we rally and win three or four in a row we're right back in there."

One way Sheehan hopes to get the Giants rolling again, for tonight's closeout with the Phillies and a weekend series with the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates, is to get Willie Kirkland back in hitting form.

Kirkland, who had been benched because he was hitting below par, was installed into the lineup last night but went 0-5 as the Giants dropped a 6-5 game to the Phillies. His batting average dropped to .265.

Sheehan benched Orlando Cepeda, also hitting below par at .277, in favor of Kirkland. The Giants' manager explained that Kirkland couldn't shake his slump by sitting on the bench.

Asked why he benched Cepeda, Sheehan said that he didn't want to move him back to first base since Jim Marshall had been "playing like hell."

Sheehan said he planned to go with Kirkland again tonight and that it was questionable as to how long Cepeda would be out of the lineup.

Sad Sam Jones (13-10) will start on the hill tonight against the Phils' Gene Conley (7-7).

San Francisco came into town Tuesday night, one of the hottest clubs in the National League. The fifth place Giants had won five in a row and 10 of their last 13 games to pull to within 5½ games of first.

Sheehan's up-and-down crew frustratingly rallied for five runs in the eighth last night to go ahead, 5-4. But it went for naught when pinchhitter Johnny Callison bombed one of reliefer Billy Loes' deliveries over the fence in the ninth with one aboard.

Mike McCormick started on the hill for the Giants. He gave up lone tallies in the first, third and fifth before yielding to rookie Sherman (Roadblock) Jones in the seventh.

Tony Taylor singled, then added the fourth Phil marker by stealing home off Roadblock shortly after the hurler's arrival.

Loes (2-3) took over in the eighth and collected the loss. He was touched for a single in the ninth by Tony Curry, then Callison won it with his big blow.

San Francisco's moment of glory came during the eighth. Singles by Willie Mays, Jim Marshall, Jim Davenport, Hobie Landrith and Dave Philley — combined with two Phil errors —gave the Giants five runs and a brief lead.

Dick Farrell (9-2) relieved rookie Art Mahaffey in the eighth to gain his second straight win over the Giants. He also rescued the first contest of the set.

The game was halted for 64 minutes because of rain during the first inning.

Peek At Antonelli's Record Shows Big Reason For Giant's Flip Flop

CONNOLLY

Johnny Antonelli, the controversial southpaw who runs hot and cold, should not mind us taking, as the late Al Smith used to say, "a peek at the record."

And one peek is enough to shock the hide of the best booster Antonelli ever had. It shows one of the main reasons for the flip flop of our beloved Giants.

Last year at this time the high priced Italian flipper had 14 victories and 6 defeats, with 12 complete games in 26 appearances. Today his log book shows three wins, six losses and only one route-going job in 28 appearances. Last year on this date Dapper Jawn posted a 2.60 earned run average. Today he's sporting 4.24 in that department.

Another big flaw in Johnny's record is the fact he has pitched only 85 innings as against 192 in 1959.

Records of some active ball players do not always reflect their importance to the club. Regulars often hit-and-run and drag and do things at bat that often penalize their yearly records.

But in the case of pitching records the "figures" actually tell the true story of a moundsman.

ERRORS MADE by teammates are excused in the earned run column; the number of games he takes part in and the number of complete games with innings pitched truly mirrors the story of a pitcher.

The Giants now trail some seven games behind the pace setters, but just for the sake of argument where would the club be if Antonelli had pitched back to his 1959 performance?

Like so many of his teammates, Antonelli is going to point to a shoulder injury which kept him out of the early spring games, and then, when he did get into action, the "horrible winds" at Candlestick Park played havoc with Antonelli, moreso, mind you, than they did with any other of the many pitchers, teammates included, who had to face the same winds.

Now that Tom Sheehan has decided to make Antonelli work his way back as a starting pitcher, the southpaw will have to perform miracles to prove he is worth the 35,000 smackeroos he gets for salary.

AND UNLESS a miracle takes place Antonelli has hit the heavens—salary wise—as a Giant. He never again will touch the salary of 1960, and faces a very excellent chance of getting shipped away to the American League when the winter trading season starts next December.

Antonelli never has fallen in love with San Francisco weather, either at the Seals Stadium or at Candlestick. But it was believed that the bigger park of 1960 would offset the line drive home runs he allowed at Seals Stadium.

Since Johnny has a big business in tires going for him in Rochester, N.Y., it is generally accepted that Owner Horace Stoneham will swap the young southpaw to a club nearer his home.

Antonelli, of course, can't be blamed for the mistakes of former manager Bill Rigney, nor can he be accused of getting Lovey Dovey McCovey off the beam. But his failures, added to the above as well as injuries to many key players, adds up to the present plight of the team.

Dykes Demands New Contract With Indians

NEW YORK (AP)—Whether the most unusual trade in baseball history becomes finalized depends on today's meeting in Cleveland between Indians' General Manager Frank Lane and Jimmy Dykes.

Jimmy is one of the pawns involved in yesterday's unprecedented trade of managers, with the 63-year-old Dykes going to Cleveland and the 45-year-old Joe Gordon to Detroit.

Dykes' Tiger contract expires at the end of this season. Gordon's contract with the Indians has another year to run.

Hardly had the baseball world recovered from the surprise when Dykes announced he would insist on a contract through the 1961 season. Failing to get it, he will quit the game, he said.

The new twist took Lane by surprise. The master trader insisted that Dykes had verbally agreed to finish the season with Cleveland. Bill DeWitt, president of the Tigers, who is the mastermind behind this strange transaction, supported Lane.

"I was present during the telephone conversation between Lane and Dykes," said DeWitt, "and I heard Jimmy agree to take over the Indians for the balance of the season. The deal would never have been made had Jimmy not agreed to it. I just can't understand his change in attitude."

DYKES MAY QUIT

Dykes, who remained in New York, told newsmen: "I understood on the telephone I was to get the same terms in Cleveland that Gordon had. What sense would it make for me to go to Cleveland just for seven weeks? I could stay out and still get paid for the balance of the season by Detroit.

"Unless I get next year written into the contract, I will quit and go home. I can't take a seven-week situation in which the players and the manager know that the manager will get fired at the end of that time."

Dykes originally planned to join the Indians in Cleveland tomorrow. Now he has decided instead to confer with Lane today.

"I don't anticipate any trouble with Lane," he said, "because he was very nice to me on the telephone."

Jimmy might be due for a rude awakening. Lane gave no indication he intends to give Dykes a longer contract than the one he originally offered.

Should Dykes take over the Indians, there also will be a swap of coaches, Luke Appling going to Cleveland as Dykes' assistant and Jo-Jo White accompanying Gordon to Detroit.

DEJECTED—A heart-broken Jeff Farrell holds his head in disappointment after his amazingly game comeback bid was at least partially foiled when he finished third place in the finals o fthe 100-meter freestyle race in the Olympic trials at Detroit yesterday. Farrell underwent an appendectomy only last week and was heavily bandaged for the swim. (AP Wirephoto)

Courageous Merman Fails In Bid For Olympic Team

DETROIT (AP) — The Olympic swimming hopes of the United States had slipped a notch today, with people's choice Jeff Farrell out of the picture in at least two events.

The lithe sprinter lost his lion-hearted bid to qualify for three events by one-tenth of a second. He still can gain a berth on the Olympic squad by placing in the top six in the 200-meter freestyle — but even that would enable him to compete in just the 800-freestyle relay.

Just as Farrell's amazing comeback from an emergency appendectomy eight days ago made him the overwhelming favorite of the gallery of 6,000 as he roared through the preliminary heats, so his failure to make the team last night caused more of a stir than the 11 men and women who nailed down Olympic berths.

Paula Jean Pope of Santa Ana, Calif., and Patsy Williard of Mesa, Ariz., earned Olympic berths by placing one-two in the three-meter springboard diving. Three-time Olympic diver Juno Irwin finished fifth among the eight finalists. Sam Hall and Gary Tobian earlier won places in the men's springboard.

Lance Larson of the University of Southern California and Bruce Hunter of Cambridge, Mass., won places in the 100-meters freestyle.

Bill Mulliken of Oxford, Ohio, earned a place on the team by placing first in the 200-meter breaststroke. Alan Somers, Indiana University star, and Gene Lenz of Santa Maria, Calif., were one-two in the 400-meter freestyle.

Completing the early Olympic winners were 16-year-old Chris Von Saltza of Santa Clara and 14-year-old Carolyn Wood in the women's 100-meter freestyle.

As Boyer Goes, So Go Cards; Nat'l League Race Tightens

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's no accident that the latest spurt of the St. Louis Cardinals—six straight victories — coincides with the return to batting form of Ken Boyer.

The slugging third baseman got off to a slow start this year and the team did likewise. A pulled muscle on top of a batting slump benched him for a while.

A week ago, Boyer returned to the lineup and immediately began hitting. The Cards responded by running up a winning streak that yesterday had them in third place, 3½ games behind league leading Pittsburgh and only half a game behind second place Milwaukee.

Boyer smashed a home run and two singles last night, scored three runs and drove in two as the Cards outslugged the Braves 13-8.

BUMS BEAT BUCS

Pittsburgh retained its three-game bulge on the Braves although beaten by Los Angeles 3-1. The game was called at the end of seven innings because of rain.

Philadelphia made it three in a row over San Francisco, 6-5, and Cincinnati split with Chicago. The Cubs won the nightcap, 4-2, after the Reds had taken the opener 7-3.

Detroit crushed New York 12-2 but the Yankees retained their one-game American League lead over Chicago, beaten by Baltimore 6-5 in 11 innings. Cleveland downed Washington 7-4. Rain forced the postponement of the scheduled doubleheader between Kansas City and the Red Sox in Boston.

A five-run rally in the sixth inning enabled the Cards to snap a 7-7 tie with the Braves. Five homers featured the slugging contest. Eddie Mathews hit his 22nd, Joe Adcock his 19th and Del Crandall his 16th for the Braves. Besides Boyer, Stan Musial cracked a four bagger for the Redbirds, his 11th.

Johnny Podres' seven-hit pitching and Wally Moon's two-run homers, his 10th of the season, led the Dodgers to victory over Pittsburgh. Bob Friend was the loser.

Ernie Banks' 29th home run, with a man on base, was the difference in the Cubs' second game triumph over the Reds. Cincinnati had snapped a six-game losing streak in the opener, largely due to homers by rookie Gordon Coleman and Vada Pinson.

Washingtonian Leads Lefty Golf Tourney

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Bob Wilson of Auburn, Wash., entered the third round of the national Left-handed Golfers' Assn. Tournament today with a two-stroke lead at 141.

Tacomans Jack Walters, and Bob Morris were tied for second at 143.

In fourth was Bob Wilder, Baton Rouge, La., with a 145. Tied for fifth at 148 were Bert Williams of San Mateo, Calif., and Ted Olsee of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Woman Rolls Record 274 At S.R. Bowl

Lois Kelly, who carries about a 165 average in Marin County women's bowling leagues, tried out Country Club Bowl's newly-resurfaced lanes the other day with startling success.

A southpaw, Lois rolled a beautiful 274 game that included a string of eight consecutive strikes. That's a women's record for the San Rafael house.

ROBBIE FREY, trim Texas tenpin star and a member of the Brunswick Advisory Staff, will appear Saturday at Country Club for a clinic and free instructions starting at 10 p.m. and a special match at 8 p.m.

The evening show will pit her against Emily Smith of San Rafael. Mrs. Smith is a 181-average bowler.

Miss Frey is a resident of Dallas, assistant manager of the Mickey Mantle Bowl and has in her record book a 279 game and 717 three-game series, among other accomplishments.

ROBBIE FREY (above), a member of the Brunswick Advisory Staff, will appear at San Rafael's Country Club Bowl Saturday for a clinic, free instructions and a special match. Story at left.

49ers' Pace May Never Play Again

MORAGA (UPI) — Halfback Jim Pace, No. 1 draft choice of the San Francisco 49ers in 1957, will not be able to play for the remainder of the season and has returned to his home in Michigan, the team announced yesterday.

Pace, one of Michigan's all-time great halfbacks, has been hampered by a knee injury ever since he joined the pro ranks. He had two operations last year on the knee, but it failed to hold up during practice.

"I don't know if he'll ever be able to play football again," said Coach Red Hickey.

OAKLAND RAIDERS

SANTA CRUZ (UPI) — The Oakland Raiders squad stood at 46 today after three more players were axed.

Those released were guard Lou Byrd, Southern California; fullback Jim Vernado, Southern University and tackle Fred Fehn, Monterey Peninsula College.

The 240-pound Vernado was considered a good prospect, but Coach Eddie Erdelatz said it would take him too long to get in shape. Vernado checked into camp Tuesday after being dropped by the Los Angeles Chargers.

The Raiders drilled on new plays yesterday and Erdelatz planned to unveil more new plays today.

Henry Hank Wants Rated Foe Next—'No More Bums'

CHICAGO (UPI)—Middleweight Henry Hank, victorious by a knockout for the 33rd time in 56 pro fights, planned a four week rest today rather than meet "the bums that I can fights with."

Hank, the Detroit scrapper rated No. 4 challenger for the middleweight crown, took only 2½ minutes last night to smack Rudy Ellis out for a 10 count in a nationally-televised bout.

Ellis, losing by knockout to Hank for the second time, was the victim of a hard right hook, coming after a flurry of Hank punches, which worked with delayed action. He staggered for nearly two seconds before he toppled on his side to the canvas and he was on his face while Referee Frank Sikora counted him out.

Hank declared he'd fight in the next month only if he could get a rated battler to meet him, and he said if he saw Gene Fullmer, rated as champion by the National Boxing Assn., or Paul Pender, the titleholder in New York and Massachusetts, on the street, he'd "slap them in the face."

Hank, whose real name is Joseph Harrison, weighed 161 last night, but said he could make the 160 pound middleweight limit easily. Ellis weighed 157½.

Truman Gibson, president of the Natioinal Boxing Enterprises, said he would guarantee Pender $125,000 to defend his title against Hank in Massachusetts.

Pro Grid Fisticuffs

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Washington Redskin Coach Mike Nixon is beginning to wonder whether he is running a football training camp or a boxing camp.

The Redskins had their third fist fight in a week yesterday when offensive halfback Jim Podoley and defensive halfback Ben Scotti exchanged blows.

Champ, Promoters Kiss And Make Up

NEW YORK (AP) — Everything is sweetness and light again between Floyd Patterson and Feature Sports, Inc. The heavyweight champion is satisfied with the arrangements for his third meeting with Ingemar Johansson.

Patterson let it be known Tuesday he was unhappy over not being consulted as to when and where the fight would be held.

"You'd think that since I'm champion the promoters would be polite enough to please ask me about the date," Floyd complained.

Later Bill Fugazy, president of Feature Sports, conferred with Patterson and said they were agreed on all points, including the date.

"The fight will be held sometime between Oct. 31 and Nov. 15 in Los Angeles," Fugazy announced.

Bay Area Counties Get Good To Excellent Deer Hunt Forecasts

STEVENS

Howdy, folks! Today we'll conclude our report on deer prospects as promised. The season opens Saturday.

SOUTH CENTRAL VALLEY

San Joaquin, Stanislaus, Merced, Fresno, Kings and Kern counties. Generally—most of area in private lands. Public access limited. Fire Hazard high. Water scarce and deer should be found near remaining water.

San Joaquin County—Best herd on north side of Eagle Mountain.

Stanislaus and Merced—Hunting restricted generally to landowners and clubs. Water unusually limited. Deer should be plentiful.

Fresno and Kings — Mostly private lands, but some landowners let hunters in if properly approached. Biggest belt of public land in New Idria area along Fresno and San Benito counties line.

Kern—Water and feed conditions poor. Best bets should be in oak-grass-land belts and around water. National Forest lands open unless extreme fire hazard forces closure. The San Emidio Ranch will be open to public on a permit basis. Permits must be obtained in advance at Bakersfield.

BAY AREA COUNTIES

Sonoma, Marin, Contra Costa, Alameda, San Mateo. Generally — Fire hazard high. Roads good except for dust as use increases. Deer conditions good to excellent.

Sonoma—All private access. Deer conditions generally poor. Best bet west of Highway 101.

Marin—All hunting lands privately controlled. Kill expected to be below average except in Point Reyes-Bolinas areas due to later season.

Contra Costa, Alameda, San Mateo — Permission required for all hunting in Contra Costa and Alameda. San Mateo also limited in this regard. Feed conditions normal and deer well scattered.

SOUTH OF BAY COASTAL COUNTIES

Santa Cruz, Santa Clara, San Benito, Monterey, San Luis Obispo. Generally—some good public lands are open, but access problems in some areas.

Santa Cruz, Santa Clara—High kill should happen in Santa Cruz but all hunting controlled by private access. Ditto in Santa Clara. Public lands in San Benito open, but balance are private. Deer are moving to lower elevations where there is better feed and water conditions. An increased take of two-year-olds expected.

Monterey — 350,000 acreas open by permits on Los Padres National Forest. Otherwise access limited to private lands. Deer moving to lower elevations and feeding on crops. Two-year-olds should be predominant.

San Luis Obispo—Hunting open on U. S. forest lands, about 50 per cent of Los Padres National Forest will be open to hunting without permits, but most of the S. L. O. section of the forest will require permits. Should be good hunting at all elevations, especially during last two weeks of later seasons.

WEEKEND FISHING generally was disappointing. China Camp area, according to Grace Quan, saw a slight improvement, but it was still far from good. Trolling around the Sisters, as well as in the Golden Gate Bridge-Alcatraz sector was slow and salmon trolling was at best only fair.

The guys and gals who have been expecting some fairly fast salmon and halibut action in the Tomales Bay region are lamenting the lack of same. We spoke with Al Giddings, chief game warden of the area, and learned that he also was disappointed. "We usually have good action after the 10th of July," he declared, "but to date I haven't caught a salmon, nor a halibut." We opine that bunch of lunkers reported up north is taking its own time in heading south—if they ever do.

With another series of minus tides happening this coming weekend, trolling in the Alcatraz region may revive. (We just learned that the boat Troller out of Berkeley Harbor netted 13 stripers in the Alcatraz area on Monday. Fish ran to 10 pounds.) Here's hoping!

L.A. Chargers Switch Waller To Left Half

ORANGE (AP) — Veteran Ron Waller has been switched to left halfback as the Los Angeles Chargers prepare for Saturday night's American Football League exhibition with the New York Titans at the Coliseum.

Waller, the former Maryland All-American who was an All-Pro selection with the Los Angeles Rams, has been playing behind Royce Womble at right halfback.

Businessmen Figure Scents Can Bring More In Sales

By LEROY POPE

NEW YORK (UPI) — Artificial flowers — smelling like posies from the garden—and plastic mouse traps with the aroma of fat bacon built in for bait are among the products of a new industry that may have quite a future.

Fragrance Process Co., of New York, is marketing the scent-impregnating invention of Alfred Neuwald, a Hungarian-American chemist. It's called poly-scent.

Neuwald learned how to put scores of scents into polyethelene pellets which can be diffused into any extruded or injection-molded plastic product or in polyethelene film.

A dozen companies already are using poly-scent in artificial flowers and to perfume polyethelene bags used to hold lingerie, hosiery and some other dry goods.

Executive president Jack Barry, former TV producer, said the big market will be in scented polyethelene bags for fruits and vegetables.

"Several big supermarket chains are waiting for the green light from the Federal Food and Drug Administration to put oranges in orange-scented bags, strawberries in film that smells like berries and even package potatoes in their own earthy scent," Barry explained.

"The idea, of course, is simply to make things more attractive and to restore to the supermarket some of the delightful smells that went out when plastic packaging first came to the fruit and produce counters."

But the plastic makers are going much farther. They are impregnating the caps of tubes and squeeze bottles for all sorts of products with pleasant odors that match their contents or in subtle ways make them more salable.

"At least 30 manufacturers of rat traps are interested in our idea of a bacon scent that means the trap won't have to be baited," Barry said.

San Rafael WSCS To Hold Ice Cream Social, Aug. 12

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the San Rafael Methodist Church will hold an ice cream social Aug. 12 in Turley Hall. Hours for the social are from 6 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Norman Campbell is chairman of the social. Those on her committee are Mrs. Robert Woodhurst, Mrs. Paul Nelson, Mrs. William Lehmann, Mrs. Glenn Tarwater, Mrs. Leroy Johnson, Mrs. Bernard Bowen, Mrs. Ralph Hoy, Mrs. Wesley Howland and Mrs. Roy Whalin. Homemade ice cream will be served in the form of ice cream sundaes, pie and cake a la mode with coffee.

The newly-formed Wesleyan Fellowship is in charge of decorations and program. Miss Patty Slayton is carrying out a 1900 ice cream parlor theme with red and white stripes dominating the color scheme. The young men and women in the Wesleyan Fellowship will act as waiters and waitresses and will be dressed in red and white costumes.

The program for the entire evening will consist of music featuring a quartet. The children will be given balloons and will be entertained by a clown.

Workshops Planned For Volunteers

A luncheon meeting was held recently at the summer home of Mrs. Rafael P. Bricca in Belvedere to plan workshops for hospital volunteers.

Present were Mrs. Bricca and Mrs. Hilda Penn of the Volunteer Bureau of San Francisco. Also attending were the Directors of Volunteers of three Bay Area hospitals, Mrs. Frank Moore of Marin General Hospital; Mrs. Jo Cheney of Presbyterian Medical Center of San Francisco and Mrs. Anne Gross from Mt. Zion Hospital in San Francisco.

Mrs. Bricca reviewed subjects presented in previous years and asked for suggestions for additional topics. There will be a number of workshops held throughout the year with guest speakers who are authorities in the various fields of interest. This small committee is one of a number meeting during the summer to submit plans for the coming year so that each workshop will be of interest to all hospital volunteers in the Bay Area.

Walther Leaguers Attend Concordia College School

Three Walther Leaguers of Grace Lutheran Church in Novato attended LSV School (Lutheran Service Volunteer School) held recently at California Concordia College in Oakland. They were Robert Lantz, Foncine Grant, and Sharyn Betts.

Rev. Les Ludwig of Littleton, Colo., Rev. Wilbur Barnett of Yucaipa, Calif., and the Rev. John Geisler of Orange, Calif., headed this leadership training course which is an annual event.

Thirty-one girls and 21 boys from different parts of the North Bay District attended LSV. These young people were divided into three committees which consisted of worship, recreation and demonstration. Foncine and Sharyn served on the Demonstration Committee in which they discussed many problems involved in Walther League activities. Bob served on the Worship Committee which discussed matins, grace and evening vespers.

Their days consisted of Bible study, lectures on group games and lectures on worship. After dinner there was a problem hour, singing and quiet hour, sharing time, and evening vespers at 10 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Schiewe are counselors for the local group which consists of 35 Walther Leaguers.

Measure First

Before shopping for clothes, a man should have someone help him to check his measurements. Measure height without shoes while standing against a wall. Measure chest horizontally with tape close up under the arms. Hold tape snugly when measuring waist. Also measure the trouser inseam—stretching the tape from crotch along the inseam to length desired.

ARTICLES created by hospital staffers during their off-duty hours are being shown in a new exhibit at San Rafael General. Here Mrs. Nora Hawkins of the business office, left, and Miss Elsie Schulz, medical records librarian, show some of their work. Mrs. Hawkins' hand crafted jewelry and other items are currently being displayed. Paintings by Miss Schulz will be included in later shows.

MRS. MARGARET IRONS, R.N., displays one of the tea pots from her collection, and Miss Grete Hendrichsen discusses her flower arrangement. The latter is part of the current hobby display by members of the San Rafael General Hospital staff. Mrs. Irons' tea pots and other items will be seen later. Joe Bell, senior laboratory technologist, is arranging monthly exhibits. (Independent-Journal photos)

Hobbies Of Staff Members On Display At San Rafael General

Visitors to San Rafael General Hospital during the past few days have paused in the waiting room to admire a glass case of hand crafted jewelry, rocks and minerals and a large and colorful arrangement of flowers. The exhibit is the first in a series on hobbies of hospital staff members arranged by Joe Bell, senior laboratory technologist.

Articles in the glass case are the work of Mrs. Nora Hawkins of the business office, who in her leisure hours is a talented craftsman in the field of lapidary arts. She shares the "rock hound" hobby with her husband, Kenneth, and both are active in the Marin Mineral Society. She is at present corresponding secretary.

Unusual items in the case include delicately made earrings, pendants and rings arranged for display on pieces of drift wood., sand stone forms, brooches, and rocks and minerals collected during the Hawkins' family travels. Some are shown in their natural state and others are beautifully polished.

The flower arrangement which shares honors in the initial exhibit was created by Grete Hendrichsen, nurse's aide. Miss Hendrichsen worked in the florist field in her native Denmark and as a shop manager in Copenhagen. Her work there included decorating the royal box at the opera.

Miss Hendrichsen came to the United States to join her sister, Mrs. Esther Lane, manager of the Danish Home in San Rafael. She is a new U. S. citizen and has decided on hospital work as a career. Flower arranging is now a hobby.

Miss Hendrichsen has a second hobby, movie making, and makes movies of U. S. life to show in Denmark. Her subjects have included super markets and the local police department. She uses a Bell and Howell 8 mm. automatic turret camera and edits her own film. Sometimes she prepares a scenario ahead.

In arranging the hobby exhibits, lab technologist Bell has found that staffers at the hospital have a wide variety of leisure time interests. For example, Mrs. Margaret Irons, R. N., collects tea pots. Mrs. Anna Howard, surgery nurse's aide, has a large collection of scenic postcards from all the world, Miss Elsie Schulz, medical records librarian, paints for a hobby. Mrs. Hollie Brown of the dietary department does hand painting on china. Mrs. Grete Souza, nurse's aide, does garden landscaping. Cooking, sewing and tying of trout flies are other hobbies.

Some of the hobbies discovered in Mr. Bell's informal survey, which he says is "barely started," will not lend themselves to display. A registered nurse, for example, likes to play the Hammond organ, which she has connected to the Hi-Fi, and shares a liking for ham radio with her husband. Another member of the staff is a dancer.

But most of the hobbies, including Mr. Bell's pottery and photography, do lend themselves to display. He plans to change the exhibits monthly.

Simmons Host Dinner For Hawaii Guest

Guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wray Simmons of Woodacre for the past weekend was Henry S. Nakata, deputy superintendent of the State Department of Education for the State of Hawaii.

Nakata and his assistants came to the mainland to participate in the annual educational conclave for the region with headquarters at Stanford in Palo Alto.

Guests for a dinner honoring Nakata included Dr. and Mrs. Samuel LeCount of Lagunitas and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Johnson of Woodacre. During the course of the evening's conversations, Mr. Nakata's discussion of educational problems and progress in the 50th state was of particular interest to the Simmons and their guests, since Mr. Simmons' position as assistant regional director of housing and home finance agency for the seven western states, Hawaii and Alaska, is primarily concerned with the building of schools, and Dr. LeCount and Mr. Johnson are both in the educational field.

Nakata stated that Hawaii has a very progressive school program. The state is endeavoring to keep abreast of its rapid population increase, and its building program is operating at the rate of one completed school room a day.

Scentsibility Explained By Expert

TORONTO, Ont. (AP)—Gilbert J. Hackforth-Jones developed his sense of smell as a chemical expert during the second World War. Now he invents fragrances for one of England's leading perfume manufacturers.

He was stationed at a chemical defense experimental station while serving in the Royal Engineers, and was required to undergo smelling tests of various gases.

Intelligence and objectivity are the requisites for a perfumer, he says on a visit here. Chemical training and artistic interest and ability provide a suitable background, although he considers himself primarily as an artist.

Perfumes are not made by accident. A perfumer creates a fragrance in his mind, then attempts to produce it. This is no easy task.

"Any fine perfume will have at least 100 ingredients," Hackforth-Jones says.

The type of skin as well as the sort of person you are should guide the perfume you buy.

People with oily skins can wear much heavier perfumes.

He recommends that women choose two or three scents they personally like — "certainly two, a daytime fragrance and one for evening."

And perfume should not be overwhelming, he says. The best effect may be obtained by using a matching range of powder, toilet water or cologne, and perfume.

Most fragrances go together well so that the perfume in lipstick, face powders, soap and other cosmetics blends into the predominant fragrance of the perfume of the wearer.

Foreign Fashions Add Subtlety To Social Service Style Show

Foreign fashions added subtlety to a style show presented at a luncheon sponsored yesterday by the Social Service Auxiliary of Marin County in the third of a series of Northgate Group summer events at the Art and Garden Center, Ross.

The continental touch for the county dwellers was noted in a boutique collection of world-wide fashions from a shop in Sausalito.

Mrs. Ervin G. Vickers of the Auxiliary acted as commentator for the show. The following fellow-members of the group were models: Mesdames A. Barlow Ferguson, William O. Weissich, Robert Poeschl, Peter Helms, Leo Strauss, Charles Trost, John DeMaria, William Donohoe, Roger P. Garety.

From Denmark a relaxed outfit for shopping was modeled by Mrs. Poeschl. The import was distinguished by a hand-screened print top and cool, comfortable white duck pants.

Mrs. Weissich made her first appearance in the show in a fashion from Switzerland. With Swiss capri pants of cotton velour she wore a shirt from France and a distinctive cummerbund from Spain.

Colorful corduroy slacks from Venice were shown by Mrs. De Maria, who wore well the unusual tangerine shade.

From the islands in the Pacific, a Princess mumu from a collection of Polynesian fashions the Sausalito shop is famed for was modeled by Mrs. Garety. The dress, an adaptation of what was once the formal court dress, was one of many individually hand-screened designs.

Mrs. Strauss wore a hard to surpass Italian knit suit in luscious cinnamon designed for county, town or travel wear.

Not all the unusual costumes were from abroad. Mrs. Garety was amusing and chic in an American-made wool plaid toga with very short pleated skirt worn with black leotards. The "at-home" costume was recommended for after skiing wear or for sports car traveling.

Mrs. Ferguson was striking in a beige sheath topped with a handmade mohair sweater from Venice in a bulky style. Later in the show Mrs. Ferguson showed an Argentine frock in graceful design fashioned of black chiffon over pink silk.

Another French import was modeled by Mrs. Helms. The formal, slim suit in exquisite gold lame was elegant. Also in gold brocade from France was Mrs. Donohue in a tulip dress with a high straight neckline and spaghetti straps.

Mrs. Vickers stepped from her commentating role long enough to model her green hand-screened print mumu.

Guatemala was the port of call for Mrs. Trost. Her hand-woven skirt and pure silk blouse were right for any night or formal day event. Mrs. Trost was also chosen to model an enchanting evening coat of Chinese red satin brocade. It was shown to perfection over a black silk short evening dress cut with utter simplicity.

Cottons with the look of silk pongee, many leather costumes, unusual accessories, luxurious fabrics and emphasis on flattering lines characterized the entertaining show.

Among the other outstanding clothes shown were a "dead white" hand-woven silk winter suit for formal wear; glamorous cotton cocktail dresses; halter-topped heavy silk brocade frocks; Austrian knit suits of outstanding style; a morale booster for Indian summer in the form of yellow linen.

Mrs. Strauss closed the show on an Argentine note in a beautiful black-white and gray tiered dress for opera or party evenings.

Members of the auxiliary acted as volunteer waitresses to the many guests. Mrs. Fred F. Enemark was chairman of waitresses.

Reservations for next Wednesday's luncheon, to be sponsored by auxiliaries of Ross General, Marin General and San Rafael General hospitals, with fashions by Northgate member Mrs. John C. Gilman's Kentfield shop, may be made by phoning the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

GOP Women To Hear Delegate

At a recent board meeting, Mrs. Mildred Graham, president of the Marin Federation of Republican Women, announced that Mrs. Merritt Hosmer of San Carlos, president of the Northern Division of Federation of Republican Women has accepted the invitation to be the speaker at the luncheon-meeting to be held on Aug. 16, at the Tamalpais Women's Center in Kentfield.

Mrs. Hosmer, well-known among Marin Republican circles, was a California delegate at the party's convention at Chicago and will be also attending the Republican State convention. The subject of Mrs. Hosmer's talk will be announced at a later date.

Reservations are now being accepted by Mrs. Greta Samet of San Anselmo, or through Republican Headquarters, San Rafael.

Sociologist Says The Gals Should Strive For Equality

NEW YORK (UPI) — History's reversing itself on the home-front — and with the hearty approval of the nation's he-men.

Traditionally, men played the dominant role in the family. Wives were expected to be — and usually were — in a subordinate status.

Ruth Shonle Cavan, professor of sociology at Rockford College, says that men seem ready to wipe out the difference in status. But the women aren't sure it's a good idea.

In a report to the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, Professor Cavan cited one college survey supporting this point.

Four of five men wanted their wives to be as intelligent and as well educated as they were.

"It is an odd reversal of historical trends for men to wish wives equal to themselves and for women to DESIRE subordination," Miss Cavan said.

That's right. Female college students participating in the survey said they hoped to have a husband who dominated them!

The sociologist said that the men —in view of the pressures of the '60's — have the correct idea. And the women who want to be dominated little bees buzzing contentedly about the house? Well, they're not facing facts.

She cited these reasons why females should go into marriage with the idea of equal status with husbands.

"Daily, monthly, even year-long separations come often," Miss Cavan said. "Mobility often carries familys into diverse situations, more children make too many additional demands, community tasks are too important for any woman to look forward to marriage as a refuge from the demands of living.

"The wife of the 1960's must be a fully equipped and fully competent partner with her husband, as jointly they plan for and reach out toward family goals."

"The beginning of a new role concept for future wives should come now, in junior or senior high school," she continued.

"Parents and teachers alike should give girls — and boys — a clear idea of the world of the 1960's, and the personal qualities needed for success in marriage in this world.

"Another reason that girls must be sturdy in character is that more and more they carry over into marriage the employment at one time thought suitable only for unmarried girls or very poor married women.

"At one time we worried about the effect on husbands of having wives bring home paychecks, even when, as a rule, the checks were smaller than their husbands's.

"Husbands were expected to resent this seeming encroachment upon their status as the good provider. Husbands seem no longer to object.

"When I raise this question in college classes on marrige and the family, no protests, no debates, no arguments are voiced.

"Girls expect to work to some extent after marriage; men EXPECT their wives to work."

Miss Cavan said only an occassional freshman prouldly states that he expects to support his wife.

"But by the time such freshmen are seniors they think otherwise," she said.

While the adjustment between working wife and husband has been achieved, the sociologist said the same does not hold true for the adjustment between working mother and her children.

"A deeply held Belief is that the mother is the most suitable person to rear her children, love them, instill in them our social values.

PARENTHOOD UNIT APPROVES

Birth Control Pills Given Endorsement

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Planned Parenthood Federation of America gave its official approval to oral contraceptive pills yesterday and urged its 100 affiliates across the country to make them available to any woman who wants them.

The federation was the first voluntary medical body to endorse the pills, which were certified as safe for birth control purposes by the Federal Food and Drug Administration last May.

Dr. Alan F. Guttmacher, chairman of the federation's medical committee and director of obstetrics and gynecology at Mt. Sinai Hospital, issued a statement recommending that all the planned parenthood clinics offer the pills on a routine basis.

Use of the pills is bound to be limited for a time because they are expensive—50 cents each. A monthly course of 20 of the pills costs $10, which is more costly than other birth control measures.

Guttmacher, speaking for the committee of 27 leaders in the field, said it was hoped a large number of women would use the pills so that more information about their "acceptability" could be accumulated.

The pill approved by the government is a steroid with the trade name Enovid. The planned parenthood group specifically approved this pill, manufactured by G. D. Searle and Co., but said that other companies were working on similar pills that would be available eventually, possibly at competitive prices.

"It should be emphasized that all studies have shown Enovid to have a high degree of effectivity provided it is taken not only in proper dosage but with absolute regularity, with not even a single scheduled day omitted," Guttmacher said.

"It has been shown that the side effects which occasionally occur are largely transitory and that after five years of carefully supervised test use, no permanent ill effects have yet been noted."

Enovid, which can be obtained only on a doctor's prescription or at a planned parenthood clinic, must be taken daily for 20 days during the menstrual cycle. Extensive clinical tests have been conducted in Puerto Rico, Los Angeles, San Antonio and other areas and have shown it to be extremely effective in suppressing ovulation.

A spokesman for the federation said the high cost of Enovid would limit its use at first "pretty much to the elite." It might be possible for clinics to provide pills at a reduced cost, he said.

San Rafael Man Heads Hawaii Lithograph Firm

Carl R. Schmidt of San Rafael, president of Schmidt Lithograph Co. of San Francisco, has been elected president of the Honolulu Lithograph Co. of Honolulu, Hawaii.

Schmidt, who has been executive vice president of the Hawaii firm for 26 years, replaced Paul L. McIlree, who is retiring as president to become a trustee of the Wallace Rider Farrington estate.

The Honolulu Lithograph Co. is jointly owned by Schmidt Lithograph Co. and the Honolulu Star-Bulletin. It is concerned primarily with producing labels for pineapple cans and containers. In a typical year, it produces more than 300 million labels.

Schmidt resides at 1210 Grand Avenue in San Rafael.

Gallinas District Budget Approved

A budget of $16,300, entailing a maximum and unchanged 1960-61 tax rate of $1 per $100 assessed valuation, was approved Tuesday by the board of the Gallinas Village Community Services District.

The board also authorized an engineering evaluation of the sewage system, felt not to be operating at desired efficiency.

Alan L. Gwynne of 866 Estancia Way, was installed as a new board member to replace Jay Crotty, who recently resigned due to pressure of other duties. The term expires in June, 1962.

Pencil Industry Spokesman Says Imports Dulling Market

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sharp foreign competition has ground the American wood pencil industry down to "the peril point," a spokesman told the government today.

The industry has all but written off its export market, he said, and low-price imports admitted under low tariffs are threatening to wipe out its domestic trade.

The complaint was voiced by Frank G. Atkinson, president of the Lead Pencil Manufacturers Assn., who appeared before the U.S. Tariff Commission to argue against further lowering of the pencil trade barrier.

NATO Chief Sees No New Berlin Threat

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—Gen. Lauris Norstad, commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces, reported yesterday after a meeting with President Eisenhower that no new threat to Berlin exists because Western power remains an effective deterrent against Communist attack.

Norstad, who holds the job Eisenhower held before he returned to the United States, described his 45-minute session with the president as a regular and routine report on military aspects of NATO.

The general said he had seen reports that a Communist military move against West Berlin may be in the making. He added that the Berlin situation always is a "sensitive" one.

But he said that he had no knowledge himself of any change in the general picture there. He said the deterrent power of Western military forces "has been effective

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHMOND BARBOUR, Ph. D.
Guidance Counsellor

Heed The Treatment Advice Given By Guidance Experts

I've been checking on the childhood of a killer. You may remember this man. He shot four people in a mad dog dash across his state. Let's call him Joe.

Joe is an example of what can happen when the warnings of child guidance experts is ignored. He grew up in a city with a good school guidance program. His first grade teacher spotted him as a boy with troubles. She asked a psychologist to study him. The psychologist reported, "Joe is mentally normal, but with poor self-control . . . he could become dangerous . . . he should have psychiatric treatment."

Joe's parents didn't take the report seriously.

In the fourth grade Joe had 26 serious fights. Another study was made. This time the psychologist said "Joe has the makings of a psychopath. He is dangerous. He must receive psychiatric treatment." Again his family refused.

When Joe was 15 he almost killed a classmate. He was on top of a boy, choking him to death. It took three teachers to pry him off. Then he grabbed a fire extinguisher and used it to club one of the teachers. This time a psychiatrist made a diagnosis.

"Joe is becoming a psychopathic personality," he wrote. "He should be removed from home and placed in a 24-hour treatment institution. If this is done it may be possible to salvage him. Otherwise Joe may be expected to become a dangerous criminal."

The school system turned Joe over to the juvenile authorities, hoping to force psychiatric treatment. But nothing happened. Now it is too late. Four people are dead. Joe will never change. If he is released he will kill again and again. Suppose we'll ever be smart enough to do something about kids like Joe?

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Are psychopaths crazy? Don't they know what they're doing?" —I.H.

(A) They know. They aren't "crazy" in the usual meaning of the word. But they lack conscience. The personal restraints which make civilized life possible are missing in their makeup.

Children Collect Bugs For Science

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Dozens of net-swinging children throughout the humid belt of the United States are collecting lightning bugs needed by Johns Hopkins University scientists.

From the fire-flies come key chemicals used in research to measure the release of energy in a body cell.

In the past, the bugs were collected only in the Baltimore area, but now teams are collecting them in Kentucky, Virginia, Georgia and Indiana.

Peach Orchard Order Issued

OROVILLE (UPI) — The State Department of Employment has been ordered a second time to refer available harvest workers to a ranch involved in a labor dispute.

Butte County Superior Court Judge A. B. Ware yesterday signed a temporary restraining order directing the department to refer workers to the Tom Bowers peach orchard near Gridley.

The order came shortly after the department announced that the dispute between Bowers and the AFL-CIO Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee was a valid one, and the department thus could not refer workers to the ranch unless ordered by a court.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Congo Really Paid Its Way For Belgium

LONDON (UPI)—Rich though the newly independent Congo is in vast mineral and agricultural resources, the flood tide of African nationalism has long stamped "paid" to its worth as a piece of colonial real estate.

Which is why, say the bitter European settlers of Africa, Belgium so readily granted independence to its former colony.

But although the Congo had in recent years become a money-losing proposition as a colony, there are still economic as well as political prizes to be won by the nations who can win the friendship of this huge new state in the heart of Africa.

The 10 years immediately following World War II were lush ones for the Congo and, indeed, for mother country Belgium which rode to rapid postwar recovery on the rich production of the Congo's copper, zinc, tin, gold and diamond mines.

Agriculturally, too, they were boom years, with Belgian settlers reaping rich harvests of palm oil, cotton, coco, rubber and coffee.

But 60 per cent of the Congo's wealth comes from an area barely one-sixth the total area of the Congo — from Katanga province in the south-east corner of the country.

For the most part, the Congo is virgin jungle with barely a dozen large modern cities.

Even the Katanga is mostly jungle. It owes its richness largely to the fact that it lies in the heart of the great central African copper belt and produces 7½ per cent of the world's copper.

The giant Belgian mining concern, Union Miniere De Haut Katanga, last year mined 284,000 tons of copper in the province and established a record as the world's largest producer of cobalt. And mostly at low cost because labor is cheap and the mines are open-cast.

Union Miniere has been so busily engaged in copper and cobalt production that it has had little time to develop asbestos and nickel reserves in Jadotville, center of the mining industry.

In the decade following World War II, the Congo's prosperity attracted considerable foreign investment, particularly from Belgium.

But the copper price slump in 1957-58 and the outbreak of nationalist rioting in Leopoldville in 1959 saw foreign confidence and investment dwindle.

The violence that today sweeps the Congo has for the time being at least dried it up completely.

But rich prizes remain to be won when political stability is restored to the Congo and foreign investment resumes.

School Turfing Figure Had Extra Number

An extra figure got in the cost of turfing the Wolf Grade School in a report in Tuesday's Independent-Journal on a meeting of the Kentfield School District board.

The cost was given as $23,927. The correct figure is $2,327.

Americans Face 'Son' Not 'Father' Choice Between Kennedy, Nixon

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "The American voter for probably the first time will be choosing between two sons instead of father figures for the presidency this November."

That is the opinion of Dr. Martin Grotjahn, psychiatrist, University of Southern California professor and author of a book about family relationships.

Dr. Grotjahn contends there are more political and economic considerations at work when you vote.

He believes your unconscious—that mysterious part of your mind that never sleeps—and your secret attitudes about your family determine to a great extent your selection.

Grotjahn said the two presidential candidates—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and Republican, Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democrat, have remarkably similar images.

"Both appear as victorious sons," he says. "But they are also brothers, alter egos in a sense, to many middle-aged persons who feel: 'I realize I cannot be president but my brother can.'

"Of course, the son may grow later—in the voter's conception —into a benevolent father image the way Franklin Delano Roosevelt did."

As vice president, Nixon has been closer to the father President Eisenhower than Kennedy," Dr. Grotjahn adds. "Therefore he appeals more to people of conservative character who do not trust younger men.

"Kennedy projects a hope for the future with younger people.

"But older people can support both men because even the older people look to the future. No middle-aged man likes to confess his life is half over. So an older voter thinks of Kennedy or Nixon like a father who wants to be reborn in his son."

What about the No. 2 men on the ticket—Lyndon B. Johnson and Henry Cabot Lodge?

"They haven't yet registered a sufficiently strong impact with the voters to be identified either as a father or a son," Grotjahn says.

His concept of other national figures:

President Eisenhower: "A powerful father figure. As a former general and also as a father, he has the right—in the voter's mind—to order his sons to battle—that's a father's privilege."

Adlai E. Stevenson: "Most people like him and want to be with him — but they expect more from a father image. Because he makes too many jokes, we unconsciously see in him that part in us which we don't take seriously."

Former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Herbert Hoover: "Retired father figures. A retired father outlives his reputation and loses his power. His sons may ask his advice but may not do what he says."

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York: "He is in his 50s —but he's still a son in our unconscious because he got his money from his father."

STUDY SEEKING WHY

Chinese-Americans Just Aren't Jailbirds

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The State Department of Corrections has disclosed preliminary results of a study designed to discover why Chinese-Americans spend less time in jail than anyone else.

Alvin Rudoff, research coordinator for the study, said that California's state prison population of 20,444 included only 25 Chinese Americans, or slightly more than one in a thousand.

But he pointed out that there were four Chinese Americans per thousand in the state's general population, or 58,500 in 15 million.

He explained this remarkably low crime rate by pointing first to a radical difference between the typical Chinese and the typical Caucasian home.

"The Chinese," he said, "do not use their homes for socializing." He said that teenagers do not bring friends, wives do not bring card parties, and husbands do not bring cronies into the family residence.

"These needs are met," he continued, "by a variety of outside organizations such as the church, Chinese schools, Chinese family associations and service clubs."

Consequently, each Chinese American is bound by social needs into a bigger community than his own family. And this community is mostly Chinese and largely interrelated.

Rudoff, a sociologist at the Deuel Vocation Institute at Tracy, said that Caucasian persons, once they leave their homes, become part of a huge impersonal community, which is more likely to breed crime.

Rudoff, with associates at the University of California, and the Public Affairs Committee of the San Francisco YMCA, were especially interested in the upbringing of Chinese children. In fact, the study itself consisted of administering extensive psychological tests to 22 Chinese Americans between 18 and 22 years of age. The goal is 50 such six-hour testing periods.

He said Chinese American parents share the job of upbringing with other adults in the tight-knit community. Thus, the Chinese youngster is subject to "personal" controls outside his home, rather than the "impersonal" controls over a Caucasian child.

Rudoff made clear that there were many other factors contributing to the low crime rate among Chinese Americans. But he repeated that one of the most important was that "every Chinese has a stake in every other Chinese."

Hearing Planned Tomorrow On Automobile Financing

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Disgruntled automobile buyers will have their chance to complain in San Francisco tomorrow when the assembly Finance and Insurance Committee holds a public hearing on automobile sales financing.

Assemblyman Thomas M. Rees (D-Los Angeles) said car dealers will have their chance for rebuttal, and testimony also will be heard from state agencies involved.

The committee will consider maximum carrying charges, the redress available to purchasers when illegal sales tactics or fraudulent contracts can be proven, adequacy of powers held by the Department of Motor Vehicles to police unethical auto dealers and salesmen and the extent of misrepresentation as to insurance sold along with automobiles.

Rees said the committee did not wish to indict all automobile dealers because of the activities of a few "bad apples."

"While I don't want to anticipate the hearing itself, I might point out that our preliminary investigation indicates that Bay Area residents are getting much better treatment from dealers than is the case elsewhere," Rees said.

The assemblyman added, however, that most complaints in the Bay Area concerned auto dealers in San Mateo County.

The Giant Springs near Great Falls, Mont., have a daily flow of 388 million gallons of water.

Litterbug Fight Is Costly One

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—It costs money to fight litterbugs, H. N. Bosworth, Maintenance Engineering Department head for the State Division of Highways, says that roadside cleanup costs in the state have more than doubled during the past four years.

He said that in fiscal year 1956-57, cleanup costs amounted to about $600,000 but during the 1959-60 fiscal period they totaled about $1,300,000.

Novato Urged To Increase Baseball Field Facilities

Novato Pony League officials Tuesday night went on record as favoring a professionally planned, long range recreation program backed by the city.

In a letter to city councilmen, league representatives asked that the city acquire areas which could be used for baseball fields.

Fields now in use, at Marion School, privately owned McIntosh Field and the "Dust Bowl" at the high school are not adequate for the number of boys who might be playing baseball, the letter said. McIntosh is the only field with seating facilities.

Three hundred youngsters now participate in Novato Little League play 90 in the Pony League, 18 in the Colt League, seven "lob ball" teams in addition to school teams.

Councilmen held up action until further consideration of a Novato Citizen's Committee which would study such needs.

Planners Approve Therapy Center

The Larkspur Planning Commission Tuesday decided that a physical therapy treatment center, including doctors' offices, would be permitted in an apartment zone of Bon Air subdivision if a use permit is obtained.

Greenbrae developer Niels Schultz wrote the commission that he had received a query on this point. No application for a use permit was filed last night.

The four planning commissioners approved architect's plans for a Shell service station at Eliseo and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Many People Are On The Move; Van Lines Doing Brisk Business

One out of every five Americans moves every year. Reports from the country's four largest van lines say that this summer season is the busiest they've had for long distance household shifts.

Allied claims to have its largest waiting list of people to be moved in company history. Aero-Mayflower is "covered up" with orders. Both North American and United estimate volume to be running about 13 per cent ahead of last year. Decentralization of business has caused much of the continued increase.

Some members of the industry credit as much as 60 per cent of their annual income to companies paying for moving costs of their employees. Shifts in military personnel also contribute heavily.

Many commercial organizations have now liberalized their payments for employees' moves to the extent that they also allow such additional expenses caused by uprooting as shipping pets, automobiles and boats. Having the right man at the right spot at the right time is worth the cost of his comfort.

MARIN COUNTY is filled with boat enthusiasts—also hi-fi fans, so it's reasonable to assume that among them are some who would like to combine both hobbies into one.

High fidelity on the water poses two problems—motion of the boat and having aboard locally generated current sufficient to operate an amplifier.

The first can be easily solved with a new type of tone arm which has come into use during the past year. It has the unusual ability to play without skipping or becoming seasick, no matter which way the turntable slants—even upside down if need be. Needle pull does not depend upon gravitational pull but "dynamic balance," an ingenious arrangement of spring tension and counterweight. Several makes are out, principally by Audio Empire, Shure and Electro-Sonic laboratories.

Low CD voltage output on cruiser power plants must be changed to standard AC. It may be converted by units ranging in price from $50 to $80, but great care is needed in matching consumption of all high fidelity components combined. Consult your hi-fi dealer for advice.

SOMETHING NEW to ease the lot of the typist is Tipp-Ex Type-Out, a strip of treated paper which makes it possible to correct typing mistakes without muss, fuss or erasures.

Type-Out is placed over the error which is then retyped to lift the letters from the page, leaving a clear space for correction. It is a product of Type-Out Corp., New York.

FOR SECRETARY or student. American Thermos Products Co., Norwich, Conn., has a lunch kit complete with thermos and disguised as a handbag. Available in vinyl plastic and pylon with zipper closure, it comes in various colors and designs.

Another lunch aid is Thermette, all aluminum electric lunch box which can be plugged into regular 110-volt current to heat the pre-cooked food within minutes. There is also space for a vacuum bottle. Manufactured by Thermette Electric Lunchbox, San Jose.

TROPICAL FISH owners can leave on vacation without having to find a reliable goldfish sitter to supply food in their absence. Era Products, San Francisco has turned out a fish feeder that works like an electric clock. A revolving drum and tube in the center pick up an adjusted amount of food and dispense it into the tank at any set time

TWO NOVELTY PRODUCTS are a robot ping-pong partner which returns serves untiringly (product of Louis Marx, New York) and a crew cut hair brush by Kent of London, New York.

The latter features long bristles on one side, tapering to a sorter length on the other—claimed to be the answer for keeping hair well-groomed.

There are an estimated one million species of insects in the world, of which about three-fourths have been identified.

ROME READIES FOR THE OLYMPICS

Construction is nearing completion on a new elevated highway costing two million dollars to facilitate travel to and from Olympic centers when the games open in mid-August. Installations include Flaminio Station (lower left), dome-topped Little Sports Palace (left center), and behind it, a building to house all Italian sports federations and the Olympic Committee. Athletes will be housed in curved buildings (center). (AP Wirephoto)

Interviews To Start For Novato Post

City council interviews with five top candidates for the post of Novato city administrator are expected to begin this weekend.

In a closed two and one-half hour personnel session Tuesday night, city councilmen narrowed their choice to the five. But Mayor Wayne Womack said that others still may be considered if the interviews do not satisfy the council.

Council members had narrowed the field of more than 40 applicants to 10 or 12 before Tuesday night's session by checking written applications. Further discussion brought it to five Californians, none from Marin.

Salary was not discussed at the meeting, Womack said. The council previously had set a starting salary range of from $9,000 to $12,000.

Councilmen are aiming at a Sept. 1 hiring deadline. The new administrator will take over From administrative consultant Robert O. Bailey, who was hired to get the city on its feet after incorporation in January.

Boaters To Have Place At California Fair

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California's State Fair has a place for boaters, too.

Officials calculate that about 100 boats will compete in the Annual Fair Yacht Race Program on the Sacramento River Sept. 3, 4 and 5. Points won in the navigational event will be counted toward the Northern California Power Boat Association championship.
